TWO LYNN MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT IN BILLERICA

Driver of Machine That Smashed Into Traffic Beacon and Turned Turtle Arrested on Charge of Operating Motor Vehicle While Under Influence of Liquor

Two Lynn men are in local hospitals and a third is under arrest at Lowell police headquarters charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor as result of an automobile smash shortly after 7 o'clock this morning at Billerica Centre.

The injured men are George Roberts, 14 Ridgeway street, Lynn, at the Lowell General hospital with multiple injuries about the head, and Francis J. Winston, 114 Rutaw avenue, Lynn, at St. John's hospital with a fractured shoulder and two fractured ribs. The man under arrest, the driver of the machine, is Frank C. Blodgett, 66 Union street, Lynn. He was uninjured.

Blodgett was arrested by Chief Henry L. Livingston of Billerica, who also had the injured men sent to hospitals. Chief Livingston says the automobile, a Ford sedan, is owned by Mrs. Jessie Doucette, 344 Chatham street, Lynn, who also was a passenger at the time of the accident, but who escaped uninjured. After running into the traffic beacon at the Centre, the car swerved around the corner into Andover street and turned turtle. Its top and both front mudguards were smashed.

WILL CALL FOR ACCEPTANCE OF THE CONCORD RIVER BILL

Councilor Moriarty to Introduce Order in City Council—Municipal Motion Picture Shows—Nomination Papers Filed—Slight Increase in Mortality Rate

Councilor Daniel P. Moriarty this afternoon stated that he will introduce an order at next Tuesday night's session of the city council calling for the acceptance by the city of the so-called Concord river bill, introduced at the last session of the state legislature by Representative Owen B. Brennan.

This bill calls for a study of the odor nuisance of the river at a cost of about $2000 and a report with recommendations, to be made at the next session of the legislature. Under an added clause inserted in the senate by Senator Charles P. Howard of Reading, it is provided that the cost be prorated among Lowell, Chelmsford and Billerica. The survey would take that part of the river from the Fordway bridge in North Billerica to the point in Lowell where the Concord enters the Merrimack.

The river nuisance abatement measure struck a popular chord among persons living in its vicinity and the members of the house from Lowell, including the republicans, united in a drive to put the measure across. Its change in the senate has hindered further action because of the feeling that Chelmsford and Billerica would refuse to pay their share.

Mr. Moriarty said this afternoon that his move to accept the act will be the first step towards getting something done in the matter. Even should Billerica and Chelmsford refuse to assist in defraying the cost, he feels that the matter should be gone through and even though it necessitates Lowell paying the whole bill.

Some Hay Trouble

Edward H. Foye, former purchasing agent for the city, who this week awarded the contract by the purchasing agent for supplying three carloads of A-No. 1 hay to the street department, is meeting with difficulties in performing the contract satisfactorily.

Mr. Foye today said that about 30 per cent of the hay delivered thus far, about ten truckloads, has been returned to him rejected, upon orders of the superintendent of streets. Superintendent of Streets Harry P. Donnelly admits the rejections and says there is nothing unusual about it, that the contract calls for A-No. 1 choice hay subject to barn inspection and that some of the hay was not up to standard, so returned. Mr. Foye declares the hay is A-No. 1. "The nicest hay I ever laid my eyes on," he said today.

Movies on Common

The first of the summer series of municipal motion picture shows will be given Monday night at South common at 9 o'clock, the same program being given at that time every evening for the remainder of the week. There will be three one-reel scenes, one of current events, another giving the story of the flag, and the third depicting New England scenes. There will also be a two-reel comedy. Charlie Chaplin in a feature picture heads the offering list for the second week.

Nomination Papers

Patrick P. Nestor of 348 Stackpole street, has taken out nomination papers for representative from the 14th district, as has Richard J. Donohue of 25 Arbor Road. City Councilor Daniel P. Moriarty and Paul J. Angelo have commenced circulation of papers for nomination as democratic candidates for representative in the 16th district. Papers newly filed this week at the office of the board of election commissioners at city hall include those of William A. O'Hearn of North Adams, democratic, for lieutenant-governor; Dr. Otis A. Allen, Lowell, republican, for state treasurer and receiver-general; and C. P. Howard of Reading, republican, a candidate to succeed himself in the 7th Middlesex senatorial district.

The Mortality Rate

Thirty deaths were reported locally during the week as against 28 and 29 for the preceding two weeks, the death rate being 18.33 as against 12.91 and 13.57 respectively, figured on a population of 112,778. Eight of week's deaths were of children under five years and seven were of infants. Four deaths were due to infectious diseases, one to pneumonia, one to scarlet fever and three to tuberculosis.

13 cases of measles were reported during the week, four of tuberculosis and one of scarlet fever.

Results From Insurrection at Sao Paulo With Rebels in Control

Strict Censorship in Effect Prevents Accurate Appraisal of Situation

BUENOS AIRES, July 12 (By the Associated Press)—A virtual state of civil war appears to have resulted from the insurrection at Sao Paulo, with the "provisional government" established by the rebels opposed to the federal government at Rio Janeiro.

The strict censorship which is in effect prevents an accurate appraisal of the situation, but official communication to last page.

K. K. K. BRANDED ON HIS BACK

Rev. Oren C. Van Loon, Pastor of Battle Creek, Mich. Church Found

Had Been Missing From His Home For 11 Days—Removed to Hospital

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 12.—Rev. Oren C. Van Loon, pastor of Berkeley Community church, near Detroit, who has been missing from his home for 11 days, was found here yesterday, suffering from heat exhaustion and with the letters "K.K.K." three inches high branded between his shoulders. Today he is at a hospital in a serious condition apparently ignorant of any of the events that have transpired since his disappearance.

Rev. Van Loon left his home at Berkeley, July 1st for his cottage at Orchard lake. From there he planned to take an interurban car to Flint, to speak. From the time he walked from his home until his wife identified him here, today, his whereabouts has been a mystery.

Rev. Van Loon on several occasions has spoken from his pulpit against the Ku Klux Klan, and his friends said he had received a number of threatening notes.

BISHOP BLISS BURIED AT BURLINGTON, VT.

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 12.—The Rt. Rev. George I. Bliss, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of Vermont, was buried in Lakeview cemetery here this morning. Bishop Bliss who for 16 years was rector of the St. Paul's church, Burlington, died Thursday following a long illness. Rev. George Davenport, bishop of Boston, Md., read the lesson in the burial service and Rev. John Henry Hopkins, grandson of the first bishop of Vermont, now rector of the church of the Redeemer, at Chicago, assisted in the burial service.

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY ON WEEK-END CRUISE

WASHINGTON, July 12.—President and Mrs. Coolidge boarded the presidential yacht Mayflower today for a week-end cruise down the Potomac river. With them were the president's father, John Coolidge, who returned with the family from the funeral services at Plymouth, Vt., John, their son, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns of Boston.

All of the family were reported as well pleased today, from their trip to Northampton, Mass., and Plymouth, with the body of Calvin, Jr. The trips on the yacht have proved very beneficial to Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, and for this reason their friends today urged them to go down the river for the week-end.

REGRET ATTEMPT TO KILL EGYPTIAN PREMIER

LONDON, July 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Foreign office officials expressed regret when they heard today of the attempt on the life of the Egyptian premier, Said Zagloul Pasha. It was believed that the premier was not seriously wounded, but on account of his age, it was feared the shock might affect his health seriously.

The political effect of the attempted assassination as far as Great Britain is concerned, is that probable postponement of the premier's trip to London for conference on Anglo-Egyptian relations.

McADOO TO TAKE ACTIVE PART

Will Do All In His Power to Assist in Election of Democratic Ticket

NEW YORK, July 12.—William G. McAdoo before sailing for Europe today said he would give the Davis-Bryan ticket his "cordial support," and that he would take part in the campaign on his return in September.

"I am satisfied that Mr. Davis is in full accord with the progressive program outlined in the democratic platform," he said. "I am confident that as president he would faithfully execute the party's mandate."

Referring to criticism from some quarters against Mr. Davis because of his connections with certain interests as a lawyer, Mr. McAdoo said: "Mr. Davis' high character, integrity and services should satisfy every apprehension of this sort."

"If I did not believe this," continued Mr. McAdoo, "I could not tender aid, because I have always believed that the interests of the people should never be subordinated to a merely selfish partisanship. The influence and power of these progressive forces must not be dissipated by division among various political movements; they must rather be consolidated and used like an irresistible battering ram of that party which offers the best instrumentality for service to the people."

Text of Statement

Mr. McAdoo's statement in full follows: "Mr. Davis and I have been friends for the last 12 years and I had the pleasure of discussing the political situation with him yesterday. The great body of progressive democrats who supported me so strongly in the convention has been anxious to know my attitude towards Mr. Davis' candidacy. My visit was for the purpose of learning from Mr. Davis his views on the important issues before the country. I am satisfied that he is in accord with the progressive program outlined in the democratic platform."

"Mr. Davis' professional connections and his associations with great banking houses and corporate interests, although considered ethical in every way have raised doubt in the minds of many as to his progressivism and as to his complete sympathy with the great reforms the democratic party must execute if it is to serve the genuine interests of the people. These doubts are not justified because a lawyer's views on economic, political and social questions are no more to be judged by his professional association than is a physician's to be judged by the character of his patients. Mr. Davis should be judged by his opinions, not those of his clients, and by the impression of sincerity and ability he creates in the public discussion of the issues."

"Mr. Davis' high character, integrity and services should satisfy any apprehension of this sort. I am confident that as president, he would faithfully execute the party's progressive mandate. If I did not believe this, I could not tender aid, because I have always believed that the interests of the people should not be subordinated to a merely selfish partisanship."

"There is deep-seated determination on the part of the progressive forces within the democratic party, and these outside of it desiring to co-operate."

U. S. RELAY TEAM SHATTERS WORLD'S RECORD IN 400 METRE

British Team Had Set New Mark Earlier In Day—Nurmi Scores His Third Olympic Triumph—Argentine Star Sets New World Mark In Hop, Step and Jump

OLYMPIC STADIUM, COLOMBES, France, July 12.—(By the Associated Press) PAARVO NURMI, the miraculous Finnish runner, scored his third Olympic triumph today when he won the 10,000 metre cross country race by more than 500 metres from his countryman, Willie Ritola, with Earl Johnson, the American negro running star, surprising the field with a great race, which gave him third place.

Arthur Studenroth of Philadelphia, and August Faget of the Finnish-American A.C., New York, were the other Americans inside the first ten in this race, which saw many of the field finishing in a state of collapse, after their ordeal under the blazing sun while others staggered across the line, several of them exhausted and utterly exhausted. The effects of the long grind seemed to date all but the leaders, the runners reeling about the track as they entered the stadium; portal and having to be guided in the direction of the finish.

The British relay team broke the world's record in the 400-metre relay race with a mark of 42 seconds flat. The old world's and Olympic record was 42 1-5 seconds.

The United States team broke the world's record in the 400-metre relay race, sixth trial heat, making the distance in 41 1-5 seconds, beating the new record of 42 seconds flat made earlier in the afternoon by the British team.

The Americans raced like the wind to slip four-fifths of a second off the mark set by Great Britain in the first heat and equalled in the third heat by Holland. The United States team was composed of Frank Hussey, Stayessan High of New York, interscholastic sprint champion; Louis Clark of Johns Hopkins, Loran Murchison, Newark A.C., and Alfred Leconey, Meadowbrook club. They ran in the order named.

Finland won the 10,000 metre cross country event as a nation with 11 points. The United States was second with 14 points, France third, with 20 points. This result gave Finland 25 Olympic points and the United States 16.

Hussey, the schoolboy star, got off to a flying start and had the baton over to Clark with a lead of five yards over France's team, the other competitor in the heat. Clark gained two yards in his turn and Murchison on the third leg added six more. On the final leg, Leconey increased the margin over France to 20 yards at the finish.

Bruneto, sterling Argentine track performer, sprang the first sensation of the day by breaking the Olympic record in the running hop, step and jump with a mark of 15-4 metres, surpassing the record of 14-97 metres made by T. Ahearn of England in 1908.

After the final of the 10,000 metre individual and team race events the totals of points for the two leaders were: United States 19 1-2; Finland 12 1-2.

Prompted by the terrific strain on the cross country runners competing today under the broiling sun, the Olympic officials announced that the marathon, the concluding feature of the games tomorrow, would start at 6 o'clock instead of 4 o'clock, giving the runners the benefit of the cooler evening weather.

Serback for U. S.

The United States received a severe setback in the preliminary competition in the running hop, step and jump when Merwin Graham, Kansas University, Mack Keeble, University of Missouri and Earl Wilson, University of Southern California were eliminated. Dr. Hart Hubbard, the American negro star, was unable to start in the event because of an injury to his head.

Finland qualified two men for the final, and Argentina, Australia, Japan and Sweden, one each.

The case had been referred to a referee for determination and report, Justice Lutzek said, and no action by the court was necessary at present.

Man Who Blamed Ku Klux Klan Members Was Own Torturer

The sensational story told by Nelson B. Burrows, former Rochester, N. H., insurance agent that he had been kidnapped, drugged and branded by men he believed to be members of the Ku Klux Klan, was broken down yesterday when Burrows admitted at a police grilling in Rochester that the yarn was a hoax and that he had tortured himself with the "K" brands and had written a warning letter to a Rochester newspaper man to insure publicity for himself.

The letter in the case was mailed from Lowell and was written on a torn-off corner of a railroad timetable. At the time Burrows made his story public he was at the home of friends in Lawrence, where he said he had walked from Plainstown, N. H., after escaping from a lonely hut after being branded on the chest and forehead. Yesterday he admitted to police that he had secreted himself in Lawrence until the day he told his story.

He branded himself to discredit the K.K.K. organization and also to place himself in the spotlight of publicity.

Burrows' wife was interviewed by a representative of The Sun as she was passing through Lowell from Lawrence to Ayer, the day after his husband made public his story. She did not say whether she believed the story, but declared there was no doubt of the brand marks on his body.

Burrows, a convert to Catholicism, was one of the founders of the Rochester council, Knights of Columbus, but immediately upon his admission that the kidnapping and branding story was a fantastic yarn, the K. K. C. organization publicly repudiated him and dismissed him from membership.

VISITATIONS OF DEATH TO WHITE HOUSE IN PAST ADMINISTRATIONS

Mourning for Young Coolidge Will Put a Damper Upon Social Events at White House—Other Notes From the National Capital

Special to The Sun.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—The death of young Calvin Coolidge brings to mind forcefully the sorrows that have marked the last three administrations, and the deaths in presidential families in administrations, of an earlier date.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson died during the president's first term. Then followed the almost fatal illness of the president on his return from Europe, and which made the White House a home of anxiety and sorrow for many months thereafter.

Shortly after the Harding administration began, Mrs. Harding was stricken with a desperate sickness from which she recovered, after a long and painful illness. Then the sudden death of President Harding shocked the world. And now the Coolidge administration is marked by the death of their beloved son. Just 62 years ago, President Lincoln suffered the loss of his dear 12-year-old son and if the inauguration of President Pierce had occurred a few days earlier, her son, too, would have lost by death a son, while serving his presidential term.

A few days before his inauguration, President Pierce was on his way to Boston from his home in New Hampshire, en route for Washington, when the axle of his car broke, the car went over an embankment and the president's son was killed, dying immediately in the presence of his father.

Period of Mourning

The death of young Coolidge will cast a gloom over the official social life in Washington. It has not been announced how long the term of semi-official mourning will last, for the Coolidges have insisted that their loss shall be regarded as strictly personal, and it was only on the insistence of intimate and influential friends that the president consented to have the flag on the White House fly at half mast, and a guard of sailors and marines placed at the head and foot of the casket during the short time it rested in the great East room of the White House. But the death of their beloved son will undoubtedly lessen, if not entirely do away with the customary social functions at the White House next winter.

Democratic senators returning from the New York convention rejoice that the struggles at an end, and unhesitatingly predict that the wounds caused by the sectional differences will be healed long before the election in November and that it will be a far more united party at that date, than will be the republican party, which is split almost to a point of breaking asunder, by the active candidacy of La Follette.

The re-election of Senator David L.

Walsh is fully expected by the democratic leaders now in Washington, even though the national ticket is headed by a New England republican. "Walsh has made good," say the democratic leaders, "you cannot defeat him." The republicans sigh, shake their heads and reply, "Well, we feel he will be a hard man to beat."

Chinese Marriages

Members of congress from California are remarking on the changes in the marriages of eligible Chinese who will be affected by the new immigration laws. It seems that the average young Chinaman, according to reports, prefers marriage with a girl brought up in China and drilled in Chinese ways. Instead of the progressive customs of the California white girl, which the California Chinese maidens have been quick to follow. The Chinese girl raised in China is docile, obedient and the family satisfied with a very modest settlement. Not so among the Chinese maidens raised in California. She is a different creature. She has bobbed hair, high heeled shoes, she speaks when, how and as she will, and furthermore her parent requires a much larger settlement. Taken all in all, so say Californians, the young Chinaman, will have to change his own domestic ideas, or remain unmarried, for he can no longer send "back home" for a bride when it suits his pleasure to import one.

John Paul Jones

The 17th anniversary of the birth of John Paul Jones has just been celebrated in Washington with appropriate ceremonies at Annapolis where his body lies buried under the dome of the academy chapel.

The ceremony was in charge of the navy department, but was participated in by all the patriotic societies having representation at the capital.

Simplified Spelling

Dr. Gideon, manager of the simplified spelling board has been attending the National Education association in Washington, and made the very interesting statement that 800 newspapers are using the simplified system in the printing of about a dozen words, which, in the eyes of the advocates of that system, is an excellent record of such a startling innovation.

The number of publications is steadily increasing, so Dr. Gideon states, and in answer to the inquiry why so few words had been adopted under the new plan, he replied that the advocates of the proposed changes believed greater good would result from the very general adoption of a few notable words, rather than through an extreme change of many words by a few newspapers.

The words most frequently changed are as follows:—program, catalog, pedagogue, and words ending with "rough" which is simplified into "thru" and "thore."

It is believed that the simplified spelling is more in accord with the original form of the words, so its advocates state.

The board is just now waging a campaign, not only among newspapers but among school boards throughout the country. Looking over a list of officers of the board it is noticeable, that while a few eastern names appear, the greater number is from the far or middle west.

RICHARDS.

FOUR PERSONS DROWNED IN CONNECTICUT RIVER

NORTHAMPTON, July 12.—Four persons were drowned in the Connecticut river yesterday, within a few minutes of each other. Two were small boys and the others men. All disappeared suddenly and without attracting notice by struggle or outcry. Three of the bodies have been recovered.

George Kelley, 10 years old, and Ernest Arel, aged 7 years, entered the water near the Connecticut river bridge. Soon afterward a companion coming to join them, failed to find the boys. Both had been drowned. Their bodies were found.

Joseph Sodajels slipped from a rowboat in which he had taken his wife and four children for a ride near Mt. Tom Junction, intending to take a swim. He disappeared. The body was recovered.

Thomas Kostack, attempting to swim a dog across the river near Canary island, suddenly vanished. Watchers on the shore reported. His body had not been recovered late last night.

ETTA LEE IS RARE SCREEN TYPE

N.E.A. Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 12.—Etta Lee, jet and ivory lady of the films, is in her slim person the very substance of the orient—an elusive line, a haunting perfume, a shadowy allure, a strange grace.

Chinese and French by lineage, Hawaiian by birth, semi-occidental in schooling, intelligent, sensitive and expressive in pantomime, Miss Lee presents a rare personality for screen exploitation.

Thus far, although she has given creditable performances in a good many secondary roles, her distinguishing self has not been granted full scope. She has been treated as a type, rather than a rich personality within the type.

"By heritage, temperament and the trend of self culture," she said, "I am equipped and moved to depict odd, bizarre, exotic, extravagant gesture-thoughts; to interpret the reality of mood, rather than the realism of fact; to show oriental impulse and emotion."

at complexities. But in this field I have not yet had opportunity."

She tapped an amber-tipped walking stick for emphasis. If words, sentences, have color equivalent, Miss Lee's matched the soft yellow of her dress.

She had just completed a part in the Goldwyn-Metro-Meyer picture, "One Night in Rome," and, pending the next studio call, was preparing for an interval of public school teaching in Los Angeles.

For years she has veered from one to the other. Normal school graduate, with teaching experience both in the United States and her native Hawaii, Etta Lee finds no difficulty in combining the two professions. On the island of Kauai she was for a time principal of schools.

Her father is Chinese, her mother French. She is a striking product of that true melting pot of races, the Hawaiian Islands—of which she speaks with intelligent observation.

"The Chinese-Hawaiian has proved a particularly good race combination,"

she commented. "In the islands the Chinese strain is usually paternal. The husbands contribute the seriousness of their people, the native wives the gaiety of theirs. These marriages are the happiest I know of."

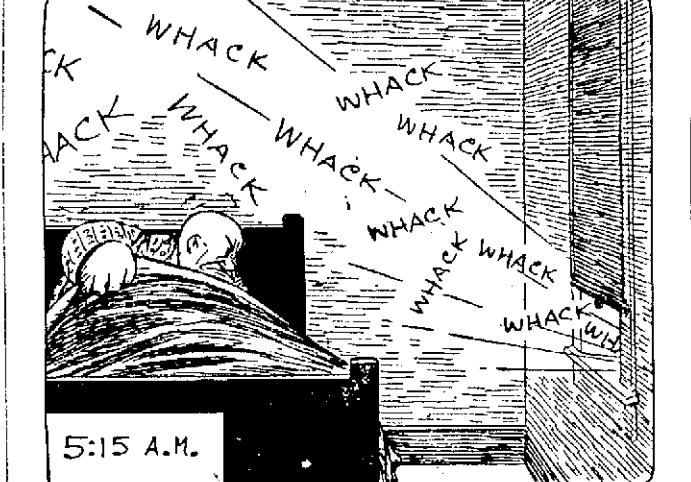

A visit to Hollywood friends put her in pictures. She has appeared in seven, including "Without Benefit of Clergy," her first, as an extra; "The Remittance Man," "Cytherea," the sandboard slave in "Thief of Baghdad," and the one just finished, "One Night in Rome."

Miss Lee's oriental caste is at once an asset and handicap in pictorial progress. Comparatively few roles demand an Asiatic. When such a part appears Miss Lee and Anna May Wong are frequently friendly rivals for it.

"And, strangely enough," laughed Miss Lee, "although I'm partly Chinese, I've lost several such roles because directors insist that I don't look sufficiently Chinese."

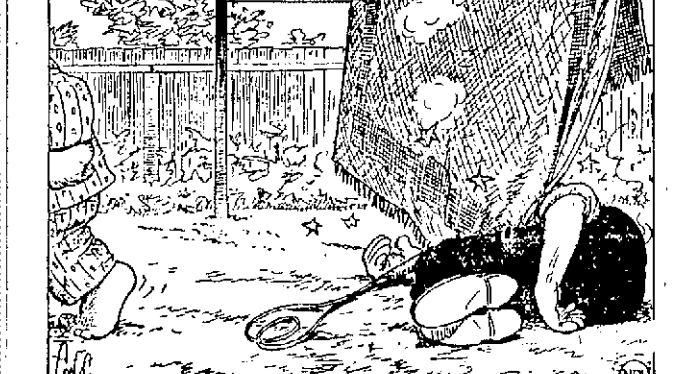

Etta Lee, with her willowy grace, her purple dark hair, deep bronze eyes, old ivory complexion, alert mind and

INDIANS GET VOTE UNDER NEW ACT

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Provided the various states that embrace their reservations will set up the necessary machinery, thousands of Indians will become voters in the coming elections as a result of the citizenship act passed at the recent session of congress.

With the passage of the law every native-born Indian in the United States automatically became a citizen, Commissioner Burke recently estimating the number at approximately 125,000. At least one-fourth of this number, it is calculated, are adults and therefore entitled to vote except in states where the election laws fix certain qualifications, such as educational, property, ownership or payment of poll taxes, that the new Indian citizens may not be able to meet.

However, this condition is believed by authorities on the subject to be only a minor hindrance to the newly enfranchised Indians going to the polls, the chief obstacle mentioned being the lack of organized machinery. Most of the Indians, it is pointed out, live on closed reservations located in unorganized counties where there are no officials to provide the necessary ballots, polling places and other election facilities.

Not only the Indians in the particular circumstances described are prevented from casting their votes, but even white citizens living on the reservations have no such opportunity. In one or two states, however, this condition is said to have been remedied by counties bordering on Indian reservations permitting the citizens in unorganized jurisdictions to cast their ballots in the adjoining counties.

More than 200,000 Indians had been made citizens before the passage of the new citizenship act and a large percentage of these are said to be placed in the similar position of not being able to vote solely because the facilities enabling them to exercise this right are not available.

NEW OATH FOR IRISH OFFICERS
DUBLIN, July 12. (By Associated Press).—The new army bill of the Seanat, or Irish Free state government, just introduced in the Dail, imposes on all officers a new form of oath. In addition to the ordinary oath to obey orders the officers will have to swear that they will not join or be members of or subscribe to any political society or organization whatever, or any secret society whatever.

SEARCHED IN VAIN FOR $200,800 DUE THEM

PORTLAND, Me., July 11.—C. Courcy and a male companion were returning to their homes at Windsor, Ont., today after searching in vain here for "United Turf Exchange, No. 17," where they expected to collect $200,800, their anticipated winnings from a bet on Madame Beach in the Detroit races of July 7. They had covered their bet, made at what they understood was the "United Turf Exchange" in Windsor, with $30,000 cash and their note for $10,400, they claimed. They had an agreement to pay the note here today, if they lost, or obtain their winnings, if they won.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Mrs. Wilke Couldn't Get Back Her Strength Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

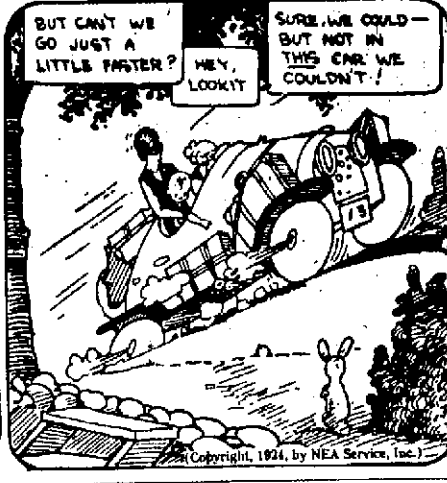

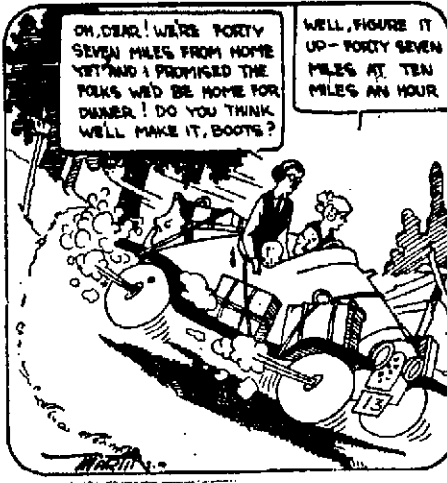

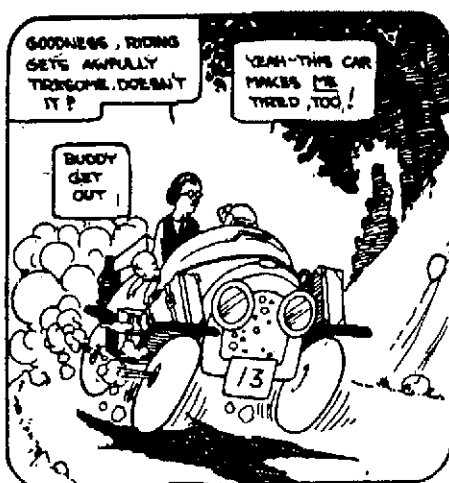

Rochester, Minn.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days' time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women who are suffering like I was will find out about your medicine. I will give any information I possibly can."—Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 933 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minnesota.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of fifty years of success among American women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

ORGANIZE TO FIGHT DAY-LIGHT SAVING

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, July 12.—The fight over the daylight saving question is apparently going to live up at once, with regularly incorporated organizations favoring retention of the present law and others insisting upon its repeal.

Today a committee of those opposed to the law met at the state house and selected several of their number to act as an "organization committee" to perfect and develop the working organization, under the name of the Federated Standard Time committee. Those selected today for this work include Ernest H. Gilbert of Stoughton, master of the state frigate; Judge J. Albert Brackett of Boston, representing theatrical interests, into the business of which the daylight saving plan has cut deeply; John Chandler of Sterling, president of the Massachusetts Farm bureau; Frank Symonds of Worcester, representing the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Ernest Makechne, a Boston school teacher.

The friends of daylight saving have already effected an organization as a corporation and are now engaged in developing it into local units of workers in all parts of the state. They are known as the Daylight Saving Association of Massachusetts, Inc., of which the president is Walter Powers, a Boston attorney who, as chairman of a special committee of the Boston chamber of commerce, has had much to do with the legislative fight during the past few years on the question. Other active workers include Claude B. Davidson, president of the Twilight Baseball league; A. Lincoln Filene, a prominent Boston merchant; and Ashton L. Carr of Melrose.

In the articles of incorporation the purpose of the association is given as "advocating daylight saving, increasing its benefits to the people of Massachusetts, imparting such information and education as may be necessary or desirable in order that they and others may derive from it the greatest possible good, and cooperating with persons engaged in agriculture and other pursuits to promote their welfare under and by virtue of daylight saving."

TICKET TAKER SAVES MAN BY NOVEL STUNT

HULL, July 12.—William F. Marshall, ticket-taker at Pemberton wharf, pulled a rescue stunt yesterday that made several scores of persons gasp, rub their eyes, look again and then emit long-drawn sighs of surprise and relief.

As the Mayflower was being warped in, a passenger tried a jump from an upper deck to the wharf. He tripped and did a head dive for the space between the dock and the boat. As he passed Marshall, the ticket-taker made a grab for him. He got hold of an ankle and swung the passenger up on the dock.

Apparently panic-stricken, the man heeled away from there. Marshall was overwhelmed with congratulations for his stunt. He formerly was a policeman and is a "buzzy."

AIR MAIL SERVICE

Letters Destined for Foreign

Countries Will Be Accepted for Transmission

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Letters, or articles sent as letters, destined for foreign countries, will be accepted for transmission by the air mail service operating between New York and San Francisco, the postoffice department announced today.

To countries to which the United States domestic letter rates apply, the special air mail service rates will be sufficient, but to all other countries the rate will be the airplane postage, plus the international letter rate of five cents for the first ounce or fraction thereof, and three cents for additional ounce or fraction thereof, less the domestic rate of two cents an ounce or fraction thereof.

The rate destined for countries to which the United States two cent rate does not apply, will require 11 cents for the first ounce, and nine cents for each additional ounce from the first ounce; 19 and 17 cents from the second ounce, and 27 and 24 cents from the third ounce.

Letters to be accepted for transmission by the air mail service must be prepaid for postage and must be addressed to a specific person or office.

The board called attention to the fact that the rate for the transmission of letters by air mail is not a new rate, but a rate that has been in effect since the beginning of the year.

206 PHILIPPINE SCOUTS FACE COURT MARTIAL

MANILA, July 12.—(By the Associated Press) The 206 men of the 4th Infantry, 12th medical regiment, Philippine Scouts, charged with the formation of a secret body to obtain equalization of pay with white soldiers and subsequent refusal of duty, will be court-martialed. It originally was intended to discharge them without honor and with "pay allowances."

Testimony taken by officers has shown that insubordination was more active than at first shown.

At Merrimack Square Theatre Next Week

ANTONIO MORENO AND ESTELLE TAYLOR, IN "TIGER LOVE" AT MERRIMACK SQ. THEATRE NEXT WEEK

"Peter the Great," coming to the Merrimack Square theatre for the first of the week, is a Paramount film, rated at the head of the Photo-Play Magazine's "Six Best Pictures of the Month." It is spoken of in the same breath as "The Covered Wagon," "Passion," and "The Four Horsemen," and is known as the Russian "Birth of a Nation."

Marvelous acting is its outstanding feature. No better proof of this could be offered than the fact that practically every stage and screen star of prominence in New York made it a point to see it when it was shown in the metropolis. It is the story of the loves, intrigues, heartbreaks and courage behind the rise of Russia to become a world power, and centers around the famous romance of the czar with a lovely peasant girl, Emil Jannings and Dagny Servaes, the celebrated continental beauty, are seen in the leading roles. New York raved over "Peter the Great." Come and see what you think about it.

"Tiger Love" is the contemporary feature of the bill at this cool and pleasant playhouse. It is another Paramount production, giving Merrimack Square patrons two features by this great artistic producing company at one performance. Antonio Moreno and Estelle Taylor are brought forward as co-stars in a story rich in romance and fire of old Spain, and one of the most dramatic tales ever transferred to the screen. It portrays the life of a modern Robin Hood, one of whose lieutenants captures the beautiful daughter of a rich aristocrat and carries her off to his mountain stronghold. The picture builds to a smashing climax, and the whole tale is one of the kind which you have awaited for so long.

Sterling may always be depended upon to keep an audience roaring with laughter. The star herself furnishes a huge surprise in this feature by developing the romance so as to alternate laughter with tears. The thrilling episodes of "The Destroying Angel" include a secret marriage, a mystery woman of the stage kidnapped in her bathing costume, a wild motorboat chase and a smashing fight on a yacht.

The added attraction is "The Playing of an Emperor" and is founded upon an historic incident, during the reign of Napoleon, that has been moulded into an interesting screen narrative, a departure from the overdone melodrama, quite refreshing.

A Baby Peggy Comedy entitled "Peg O' the Mounted" and the very latest issue of Fox News are also included in this splendid picture program.

"The Day of Faith," a story said to be written in the same vein as "The Miracle Man," but made on a larger scale, is the chief attraction for Sunday. The picture includes Eleanore Boardman, Ford Sterling, Ray Griffith, Tyrone Power and Wallace MacDonald. The companion Sunday feature is "Nobody's Money," starring Jack Holt and an all star Paramount cast.

Readjustment of business conditions, marked by decrease in industrial and trade activity, and by lower prices, is under way in United States, according to statement of federal reserve board.

More than 10,000 messages of condolence reach White House since death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

Americans break even in Olympic catch-as-catch-can wrestling competition, winning three and losing three bouts.

Engagement of Earl of Galloway and Miss Philippa Wendell, formerly of New York, a sister of Countess of Carnarvon, is announced at London.

Worst forest fire situation in years in northwest, is feared as flames sweep thousands of acres of forest lands in Idaho and Montana.

Four persons die from botulism poisoning caused by eating ripe olives at Aldrich Lodge, summer resort near Cody, Wyo.

First official returns from Mexican elections give Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles 41,455 votes in Mexico City against 5440 for Gen. Angel Flores.

RIACIO THEATRE

There can be no question about Leah Baird being supported by an all star cast in her screen version of the exciting comedy drama, "The Destroying Angel," from the popular novel by Louis Joseph Vance, which comes to Leah's Riatio Theatre starring Leah Baird, Noah Beery and Mitchell Lewis are celebrated photoplay villains, while John Bowers as the handsome hero, fights and makes love in the most approved style. ## THE WALL STREET BUGABOO

The phrase "Wall Street" is now used as a political bugaboo to arouse prejudice in the minds of those who may not realize that since the establishment of the Federal Reserve system in 1913, Wall street has lost its power to create panics or to contract or inflate the currency as it had done for many years. Wall street is no longer a menace to the country or the people. It means only an aggregation of bankers and stockbrokers who carry on a legitimate business under the control of law. They represent capital in the socialistic sense; but in reality they are merely financiers who have to meet all the business contingencies that confront business men in general. The Federal Reserve law has given the currency the elasticity necessary to meet the demands of legitimate business however great.

But Wall street before the passage of the Federal Reserve law could contract the currency simply by tightening its purse strings and refusing to grant loans. Then when a vast number of business concerns were forced into bankruptcy, Wall street could buy their properties for a fraction of the actual value. On the other hand, if Wall street wanted to create a business boom, it could do so by freely granting loans on reliable security. In this way it could readily stimulate business previous to an election and thus delude the people into support of the republican party from which Wall street of the old time secured most of its privileges. Indeed Wall street in those days controlled congress and state legislatures, but today it controls neither. Nor today, as formerly, can it start a boom to return the republican party to power. The Federal Reserve system put an end to that. This piece of legislation enacted within the year in which President Wilson was inaugurated, has overturned the dangerous power of Wall street and stands ready to grant loans on reasonable security to every business man regardless of party or political considerations. If Woodrow Wilson never did anything else for his country, the fact that he was instrumental in establishing the Federal Reserve system, entitles him to a national monument and the undying gratitude of the American people.

It will become the republican press or republican politicians, the erstwhile pawns of the old and wicked Wall street, to sneer at John W. Davis as associated with the moneyed interests. True, he has been engaged as counsel by big business concerns in Wall street, but he is neither the tool nor toady of any business interest. His demonstrated sympathy for the West Virginia miners in their fight against the operators shows that he is not a man who can be bought or controlled by any of his clients. His high character and eminent ability stand as proof of his independence, and if further proof be necessary, it can be found in abundance in his record of service to his party and his country as democratic congressman, statesman and diplomat.

It was not without cause that Speaker Gillett paid a glowing tribute to John W. Davis on the latter's departure from congress in which he was highly esteemed by the members of all parties. Speaking of Mr. Davis Mr. Gillett said:

"We all admire him and trust him as a man of sound judgment, of broad culture and learning, of high character and the most charming personality, and I am sure that while he is at the Court of St. James the very lofty standard that has been fixed there by a long line of great Americans will not be lowered and that the exacting demands of this momentous crisis will be adequately met."

So far as Davis was concerned the high expectations of his fellow citizens as to his ability were fully realized by his service in every office to which he was called.

A Thought

Who upon earth could live were all judged lustily?—Byron.

Practical Chemistry

"Coal exposed to the elements loses 10 per cent of its weight and power," said the lecturer. "This is due to the action of the alkali constituents of—"

"But, what if there is a dog sleeping near the coal?" interrupted a student.

"None of your levity, young man. This is a serious matter."

"That's what I thought when 72 per cent of the coal had bought disappeared during three night of exposure. Then he asked my advice as a student of chemistry, and I told him to buy a dog."

"By window length, and now he doesn't lose 1 per cent of our coal a month. That's practical chemistry."

Just Did It, That's All

The scene of this little incident was laid in a mining town "out West." It was one of those little groups of shacks that sprang up so fast, almost overnight, when any new deposits of gold were discovered. Two prospectors had met in the "saloon" to have a drink and a chat when the day's work was done. "I hear that Black Jake went to Casey's saloon last night and shot two men," remarked one of the other men. They sat over their drinks. "What for?" asked the second man. "What for?" replied the other. "Is this town worth that darned civilization that a fellow's got to give a reason for every little thing he does?"

She Enjoyed the Show

Miss Elizabeth Marbury was criticizing the modern theatre. "After all," she said, "the public gets what it deserves in the way of a theatre. I was talking to a young man at a dinner party the other night. 'I went to see the new tragedy at the Grand opera yesterday,' she said. 'Ah, yes,' said I. 'It's full of wonderful new ideas, they tell me.' 'It is that,' said she. 'I noticed a clutch of silver evening gown made in absolutely straight lines—the new medieval cut, you know—and there was a coterie in monkey fur that I shall certainly copy. The skirts, too, were absorbing—so long and tight—you'd hardly believe the change from last year.'"

Too Good to Miss

It was the club's annual fishing contest and two dozen fishermen were taking part. One of them had brought with him a stone jar containing half a gallon of something stronger than water. The contest had been in progress for an hour when the owner of the jar remembered a friend at the extreme end of the line of contestants. In a moment of generosity he called a boy and told him to take the jar to Mr. Robinson. With a request that he should "have a pull." The boy departed, and was absent so long that the generous one felt quite overcome with thirst when he at last reappeared and eagerly raised the jar to his lips. "Why, 'Plimsie,' he cried, in dismay. "Plimsie," said the lad, "they was all Mr. Robinsons when I asked."

A Grain at a Time

May Shaw was the domestic recently discovered and engaged by Mrs. Tootum for the housework of "Kings-View."

Appropriately enough, May, as well as being Shaw, was exceedingly slow. She did all her work to the accompaniment of hymn tunes, and what is more they were always the most mournful she could find.

One morning the girl was told to fill the cereal and, according to her usual custom, she was very long time over the job. Mrs. Tootum, who was laying the table for dinner for some very special visitors, grew impatient.

"May, you've been a long time filling that cereal," remarked Mrs. Tootum sternly, when at last the long-sought vision appeared.

"Yes, mum," was the reply. "I've had an awful job getting the pepper through them little holes in the top of the pepper box."

Exiled

"Woe to the man who takes two wives! Woe to the landsman who loves the seas!"

But woe to that man a hundred-fold, Gives his heart to two countries!

I lie awake twist three and five, And then the dawn is dawning gray, And the maple trees are shivering With waiting for the day.

And I dare not think of Sussex, Or how the dark hills go, Like a girdle around Lewes, Where the chalk-seas gleam like snow.

Nor how the hills of Berkshire Ride west into the sun; Nor how the marshes at Andover Down to the marshes run.

Nor how the lights of Waterloo Spring up in the night, Nor how the dark and broad and solemn, The Thames goes sweeping by.

And now I'm back in England I need never wake and lie Remembering the dark hills Under a wet gray sky!

But this morning's dawn came whispering A faint, sad charm Of a blue, maple shadow Upon a white, wood fern.

(Woe to the man who has taken two wives! Woe to the landsman who loves the seas!)

But there's neither peace nor sleep for the man Who has given his heart to two countries!

—EVA PILLS-BERMON in the Atlantic Monthly.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Vacation time—play time. It is with great satisfaction indeed that anxious mothers see their children playing about under the interested supervision of the playground directors. The municipal bathhouse, also offers healthful recreation with proper instruction in the swimming art by congenial life-savers, so-called. The swimming pool off the Pawtucket boulevard is the mecca for hordes of children and grown-ups seeking relief from the heat of the sun-baked pavements.

Among the many "favorites" at the swimming pool is the ever smiling police officer in charge. The ideal of the young men, he provides many cherished moments in he allows the younger children to adore his stature, his "shiny buttons," his "prepossessing badge," and best of all his "junior baseball bat," as expressed by one of the youngsters, referring to the policeman's club.

QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Lawrence Cummings enjoyed a trip to Bar Harbor and the White mountains 25 years ago.

Mr. Joseph H. Choquette and Miss O. Jean were united in marriage July 10 at St. Jean Baptiste church by Rev. Fr. Perron.

Wild West Show

Buffalo Bill and his wild west show were in Lowell with all the special features for which the aggregation was noted, including the mail van of the olden times and the little army of Indian scouts. Buffalo Bill was himself, however, the main attraction. He was a crack shot and his performance in this respect excited the wonder of many of the military marksmen of Lowell. Buffalo Bill died some years ago and the wild west show which he organized and conducted for many years, soon dropped out of existence, although wild west features were afterwards carried by some of the big circus companies.

The Kissing Bug

Among the pests that visited Lowell was a poisonous kissing bug by which many persons were stung about the face. As many as a dozen parties were treated at local hospitals because of having been kissed by this particular bug. Although this bug has long ago disappeared, there are still at large quite a number of "kissing bugs" whose touch, however, is not quite so poisonous as that of the particular insect that visited us some 25 years ago.

Miss Helen A. Whittier, president of the Middlesex Women's club, lectured before the Hesperian club of Somerville on "English Cathedrals."

Enlisted for Philippine Service

From the old Sun: "The first man to enlist in Col. P. H. Dalton's regiment for the Philippines was T. J. Dalton, 255 Worcester street. Major Foot, the recruiting officer, had scarcely opened his office on Hanover street, when a strapping young man knocked at the door, entered and gave the military salute in faultless style. In the course of questioning by the officer, he gave his name as Thomas J. Dalton, a native of Waterville, Ireland. He had been a member of the 2d regiment of infantry and took part in the fighting in Santiago from the first to the tenth of July, 1898."

Oakland Firehouse

According to the old Sun, the board of aldermen on motion of Alderman Dimon voted to erect a new firehouse for the Oakland district. For some reason the firehouse did not materialize and the vote taken 25 years ago had been forgotten, so that it was necessary for a subsequent city council to take up the matter and see it through. The new firehouse in the Oakland has only recently been completed.

Hon. Charles H. Allen, assistant secretary of the navy, returned to Lowell July 13, 1899.

Pierce Thunder Storm

The old Sun has an account of a fierce thunder storm on the night of July 12 which was a Tyngsboro barn belonging to Olive E. and Z. M. Plafsted, at the junction of Varnum avenue and Country club road, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Thirty head of cattle perished in the conflagration.

erased and equally so for the tempting and delicious ice cream which is adequately nourishing when one is disinclined to eat a heavy meal. Children especially seem to be taking to ice cream this season rather than having peanuts, candy, popped corn and such other treats.

It is not very often that one has the opportunity to see dead, abandoned game. Although out of season for pleasant hunting, I found a dead pheasant while tramping through the woods recently. It was one of the prettiest I have seen. The tail feathers, russet, chestnut brown, yellow and burnt orange, made as pretty an end piece as one could desire. The bird was unusually large and had apparently been shot and slightly wounded and then managed to make its escape only to bleed to death in a forsaken spot in the woods.

DIED IN SWIMMING POOL

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 12.—Albert Goulet of Central Falls was found dead yesterday in the pool of the Pawtucket-Central Falls Y.M.C.A. Doctors said that the 17-year-old boy had died from heart trouble.

TIMBER AND FARM LAND MENACED BY FIRES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Forest fires are burning today in five western states and on Redonda Island, B. C., constituting varying degrees of menace to timber or farm land. Precipitated by the drought of unusual severity, which is widespread on the Pacific coast this season, the forest fire hazard is moving one of the worst in the history of the forestry service.

Fires have been reported from Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon, in addition to widespread and menacing outbreaks in California. Three national forests in California at present are threatened by blazes that have as yet resisted efforts to control. One on a 28-mile tract has been burning a week in the Sequoia national forest, a second in the Tahoe national forest, where in the Forest Hill divide section a blaze which started Wednesday is out of control and in the Santa Barbara forest fire is spreading along the Elizabeth valley country.

Dozens of other blazes in scattered areas up and down the coast have been reported. Volunteer fire fighters under forest rangers, are striving to check the spread of the flames. In several danger zones additional forces are being recruited.

EGYPTIAN PREMIER SHOT IN RIGHT HAND

CATRO, Egypt, July 12. (By the Associated Press.)—The Egyptian premier, Said Zaki Pasha, was wounded in the right hand by a revolver shot at the railroad station here today when about to leave for Alexandria.

The premier was walking along the platform between the sub-governor and the acting commandant of police amid cheering crowds when a young man flung at him from behind the front rank of spectators and then threatened the police commandant.

The assailant was rescued with difficulty from the crowd and was placed on the train, while Zaki Pasha was removed to his home.

FORMAL OPENING OF THE GREEN LANTERN

The Green Lantern, formerly the Pawtucket Boat House, was formally opened last evening, when the members of the Girls' City club held a most successful dancing party. The hall was cleverly arranged with green and white streamers. Members of the Haverhill Girls' club attended the opening.

An enlarged program of summer activities by the club necessitated larger quarters and the boat house was purchased a few months ago to be devoted to club activities, principally dancing parties, dinners and social affairs.

The lower portion of the boat house previously used for the storing of canoes and boats, is being renovated and will be used for classrooms where domestic science classes will be conducted by the club during the winter months. The office and reading room will also be on this floor. The bowling alleys will remain the same, as will the upper floor.

Last evening's affair was one of the many summer parties to be held and practically every member of the club was present with relatives and friends. During the dancing favors were distributed and at intermission refreshments were served.

Those in charge of the affair were: General manager, Miss Sadie Melancon; favors, Miss Anna O'Neill; decorating, Miss Mary Martin, Miss Seraphine Leblanc.

GREENHALGE PLAYGROUND

The first weekly entertainment at the Greenhalge playground was held yesterday afternoon and was largely attended by the parents of the participants. A fine program of costume dancing, folk dancing and singing was given. Group and solo dance numbers were also on the program. The program follows:

- Jazz Dance, Dorothy Rourke
- Graceful Waltz, Margaret Terry
- Skirt Dance, Alice Lebrun
- Song, Billy Boy
- Donald Lavergne, Lillian Therrien
- Clog Dance, Nora Finn
- Star Polka, Helen Dudley, Marion White
- Russian Dance, Marion Egan

GAS CO. ESTABLISHES MANY AGENCIES

The Lowell Gas Light Company has established agencies throughout the city where customers may pay their monthly bills.

This service is in line with the policy of the company to do what it can at all times for the benefit of its customers, and replaces the agencies formerly conducted by the American Railway Express.

The agencies have been established at centrally located points where it is deemed they will be of the greatest benefit.

Canoeing

There's nothing much doing so let's go canoeing and loaf on a mirror-like lake. It's restful, at best; you can go as my guest, and a trip down a streamlet we'll take.

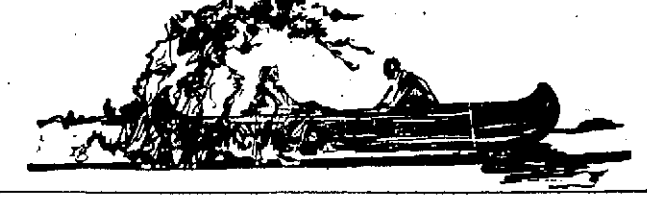

We enter the boat and we set it afloat; then I paddle serenely along. You nestle in pillows and then to the willows that droop on the shore, sing a song.

The kalydsids call in a note that is clear, and the whippoorwills whistle their tune. You shortly discover that nature is here and you're lost in its realms pretty soon.

The breezes are blowing a lily that's growing nearby and it beckons to you. We glide to the thicket where gently you pick it to take in our tippy canoe.

'Tis all 'magination; a one-day's vacation, and quiet and silent you've sat. The boat and the stream are, in truth, just a dream, but I'll bet you feel better, at that.

Pay Your Gas Bill

AT THE

Agency Nearest Your Home

Owing to the fact that the American Railway Express Company has been obliged, because of an ever increasing business, to discontinue collections for the Lowell Gas Light Company, agencies have been established in various parts of the city where gas bills may be paid. This is in line with the endeavor of the company to give the best of service to its thousands of consumers.

This service is instituted at no cost to our customers. In order that advantage may be taken of the discount allowed, payment should be made on or before the due date on the face of the bill.

The location of the nearest agency to any customer's home may be determined from the following list:

- W. Calise, Alken and Moody streets.
- J. A. Osgood, 576 Merrimack street.
- Butler's Drug Store, 345 Middlesex Street.

KNOW THEIR BUSINESS

Even during the first season's "fun," many automobiles need "touching up" with paint and varnish. Cars are sometimes operated in sections of the country where weather conditions are continually bad for the varnish of even the best hard enamel, and the nearest paintshop is usually called upon to bring the automobile back to its proper place in the good looking automotive division of the city and country traffic routes.

The very best possible work in both automobile and carriage painting has always been done, and is still being done regularly and in increasing volume, at the popular headquarters of J. O. Leclerc, corner of Moody and Pawtucket streets, right over the well known Moody bridge garage. The Leclerc house of painters, all professionally expert, and who know just what is demanded when tarnished cars are brought in for refurbishment, has a host of delighted customers' names on its bills.

Motor vehicles and carriages are brought from all sections of New England to the Moody and Pawtucket streets painting establishment run by Manager Leclerc, whose work is second to none. There has been a demand of late for heavier glossing of motor car bodies, both of the expensive and cheaper lines. All work performed at the Leclerc establishment comes up to expectations. No one anywhere can do the work required any better than this shop, where only experts handle the brushes and oils and impart a new and long-lasting surface to the motor cars sent to their well-equipped paint shop.

No painting establishment catering exclusively to the renovating of both motor cars and carriages, has a finer established reputation. Anyone in need of advice on "painting up" the old car, or having the new one "lined up," should see Leclerc and ask his advice. If you can't pay a personal visit to the big auto painting establishment on Pawtucket street, call Leclerc on telephone number 4589-W, and you will get information that will benefit you immensely before you decide on renovating the appearance of your favorite motor car or other road transportation vehicle.

ACCESSORIES IN GREATEST VARIETY

Accessories—tires—tubes—vulcanizing—these are but a few of the specialties that keep the name of the Merrimack Auto Supply company, of 139 East Merrimack street, constantly before the motoring public. Automobiles in want of "extras" additional tires and tubes or new parts such as pistons, piston rings and wrist pins, can find them here—in ample selection and variety at all times and in quantities of the very best, first, last and all the time.

Manager Harry J. Roche has met immense success in the venture that he conducts in a strikingly enterprising way at 139 East Merrimack street. It is "service" for one thing; but the great variety of accessories and parts that is carried to help out the motorist suffering from mechanical troubles, is one of the best things about this enterprising shop right across the way from the new Memorial Auditorium. The Merrimack Auto supply station also provides the best gasoline and motorists' favorite oils—best qualities, pure goods, prices right always. Air is furnished free for the tubes that need replenishing. The handy telephone number of Manager Roche's wideawake and always busy supply station is 1103-R.

THE VERY FINEST KIND

The past two summer seasons have each shown an increased demand for and appreciation of garden portraits—those delightfully pleasing "pictures," produced only when photography of the very finest kind is employed. Will Rounds, "your photographer," produces photography of this kind, unexcelled anywhere because it is work performed by one who loves his vocation, who has appreciation to start with, that results in the production of finest portraits, eagerly sought and highly prized.

In garden portraiture, which the Rounds residence studio at 112 First street is specializing in most extensively this summer, there are special adaptations to portraits of ladies or children, allowing of pictorial results unusual.

It is the only studio in Lowell and vicinity having surroundings adapted to this—a real garden built for pictures. Appointments with the Rounds studio at 112 First street save disappointments. The telephone is No. 2415.

LOWELL TOWN TAXI

Telephone 7096 is on one of the busiest call lines in the Lowell central wire communication territory, and No. 7096 is about the busiest "phone" on that wire. There's a reason for making this statement. How many motorists would ring up hastily when they want a taxi to take them to the railroad station, the lodge meeting on a rainy night, to church on Sunday or to that outing down the river with the rest of the folks who cannot get where they want to go promptly in any other way. There are still many people who manage to have no motor cars of their own and cannot depend upon street railway or railroad connections, preferring Lowell Town Taxi service for quick moves from place to place.

Lowell Town Taxi service is beyond criticism. No concern handling public transportation in this city or vicinity, provides better accommodations and service for patrons. Responses to all calls are prompt; trips are made to all destinations in the quickest time consistent with safety—first regulations. Town taxis are always ready on call, day or night. Town taxi chauffeurs are men of integrity, with reputations that are trustworthy, and the service they give under the Lowell "Town" colors is the very best that can be found anywhere in the country.

The next time you want to hire a real taxi, with a real reputation for good, careful tax service; a real taxi-cab driver who knows how to handle his machine, and who will provide a safe journey to and from your destination, day or night, call up 7096 on your telephone and the Lowell Town Taxi company will send, from 408 Middlesex street headquarters, the desired article. It is service that is real, the cost is low, and you may rest assured that you will get where you want to go when you want to go, and travel safely all the way.

HIGHEST GRADE OF
STANDARD TIRES

The Boston Auto Supply company, 96 Bridge street, is never undersold. "The path of satisfaction leads to our door," is the motto. Service at this busy house of merchandising offers a multitude of automobile accessories of all wanted varieties and best solutions. And the company serving automobilists all, from excellently located headquarters on Bridge street, is never undersold.

Today the Boston Auto Supply company is advertising highest grades of standard tires. There are the famous Diamond N. S. Titan cord, the Diamond fabric, and the 32x4 Diamond No. S. cord tire, the best at the price, which is $22.00. The fabric sells for $20.00 today, the Titan cord for $10.00, excellent in qualities both of them and long-mileage.

Many motorists are now using the latest "super fuel," "Boyle," which gives more mileage, takes out all carbon and makes gasoline higher test. Three cans, treating 30 gallons of gas, cost but one dollar.

The Bridge street accessory store carries today a full line of the famous Continental motor parts, Borg & Beck clutch parts, among other popular selections for both trucks and pleasure cars. Stintax oil is featured, with a five-gallon can selling for $3.75. The variety of tire covers distributed by the Boston Auto Supply company is also large, and this concern employs official headlamp adjusters.

PLANTS AND FLOWERS OF POPULAR DEMAND

It is always a pleasure to visit the elaborate greenhouses of Haynes the florist, located at 1328 Gorham street, opposite the Edison cemetery. Growers of potted plants and cut flowers—the Haynes establishment, in every department, always offers a variety of wonderful things in nature's best offerings in floral products, providing in ample measure for customers' varied and discriminating demands.

The Gorham street greenhouses have been so long established, that little extensive advertising is necessary nowadays, although the able management invariably maintains steady publicity campaigns in favorite channels such as The Sun. At this time of the year, bedding plants are in demand to replenish and renew the garden and lawn beds where early-blooming plants may have completed their season's offerings of beauty and delight. It is time, too, to prepare for the season when bulbs must be set out in the ground through the winter months, in preparation for early spring and first blossoming next spring.

The Haynes greenhouses are prepared as usual to take care of all orders for the coming year's garden innovations and expert advice is always given when garden-planners want information concerning best floral displays to suit surroundings which they are to beautify in the future. A visit to the Haynes conservatory on Gorham street, will pay excellent dividends in satisfaction when customers learn how to select the best there is in the splendid line of plants. Cut flowers for every occasion are always a specialty here, too, as thousands of customers know.

SPORTING GOODS FOR THE OLD AND YOUNG

Popularity has rested long upon the banners of the George H. Bachelder establishment—dealers in motorcycles, bicycles, children's vehicles, sundries and supplies and general sporting goods of many and various popular labels. "Ride a Bicycle" is a regularly posted slogan posted in prominent position near the entrance of this store on handy-to-reach Post Office avenue. And what a big variety of finest bicycles there is to be found at this wideawake, up-to-date sporting goods house, to be sure!

The famous "Indian" makes, the "Crown" and the "Hartford" with the long and lasting reputation; also the "Red Wings," and all on display all the time, inspections bringing quick orders and delighted purchasers. The Bachelder concern has always given expert service with every bicycle—a feature that has won a host of patrons and kept them faithfully praising the name of Bachelder. It is easy to ride a "bike"—healthful—easy to pay, too. Terms are very reasonable at Bachelder's, and "anyone can ride a bike and pay for it at the same time," who wants to.

Only the finest and sturdiest of children's vehicles, sundries and supplies are carried here in Post Office avenue. There are field sporting supplies in extra-fine quality, this season, baseball goods selling excellently and supplies for outdoor exhibition games of many varieties of exuberant popularity, also being regularly kept in stock for quick selection and purchase. The Bachelder telephone number 1758, is a handy aid to getting a line on the Bachelder stocks.

AUTHORIZED FORD
SALES AND SERVICE

This is the height of the season in the automobile sales world, and, as usual, the popular Ford is in great demand in all sections of the land and across the seas. This year has been a record-breaking one for the Ford Motor company of Detroit. Weekly production was the largest ever known, and while there has been a seasonal let-down in full-speed manufacturing during the past few weeks, the coming month will see the Detroit plant back on the regular schedule of normality. The demand for the products of the Ford brand will never cease, apparently, just as the man who designed the automobile that became the world-leader in sales and service, claims. There is a Ford for every human use, for pleasure-riding, trucking and for agricultural pursuits.

The Olcott Motor company at 19-25 Arch street, opposite the Middlesex street railroad station, has recorded a splendid sales and service business since it opened the new and handsome distributing department early this year.

The slogan carrying good advice in the Olcott advertisements in The Sun reads: "Order Now and Avoid Future Delay." As this is an authorized Ford sales and service establishment, it is an excellent place for prospective Ford car owners to visit. The telephone number is 7353.

Courteous salesmen attend to customers' every want and every accessory required by Ford owners can be found here at this up-to-date sales house.

"BIB" FALK OF CHICAGO WHITE SOX NOW LEADS LEAGUE BATTERS

Sensational Drive That Produced 14 Hits in Seven Games Rush White Sox Outfielder to Leadership With Average of .372—Ruth Second

CHICAGO, July 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—A sensational drive that produced 14 hits in seven games, rushed "Bib" Falk, Chicago White Sox outfielder, to the batting leadership of the American League with an average of .372, according to averages of games through Wednesday, released today.

Falk was fifth a week ago with .345. Although his hitting was confined to spaces within fences, five blows were two-baggers. He is showing no inclination to relinquish the lead.

Babe Ruth is clinging to second place with .365, with Jameson of Cleveland third with .363. The idle Boone of Boston is up among the pacemakers with .351, followed by Cobb of Detroit in fifth place with .348. Goss of Washington and Sheely of Chicago, have been doing some telling work with their bats and Harry Hellmann of the Tigers, who set the pace almost since the start of the season, is getting no worse.

Babe added four home runs to his collection, bringing it to 24.

Other leading hitters: Goss, Washington, .344; Sheely, Chicago, .338; Hellmann, Detroit, .337; Prothro, Washington, .331; Mostil, Chicago, .328; Meisel, New York, .331; Collins, Boston, .331.

The hitting in the National League has been consistent. The leaders remain undisturbed with Hornsby of St. Louis showing the way, with .352; Wheat of Brooklyn, batting second, with .378, and Snyder of the Giants third with .361. Kelly of the Giants is fourth with .351. Bressler of Cincinnati, grabbed off a hook of hits before Daubert returned to the game and the substitute first-sacker of the Reds therefore figures among the first five with .346.

Although Fournier of Brooklyn has been swinging a mean club in long distance hitting, he has sagged in general average. Fournier has connected with 18 homers, while Williams of Philadelphia and Hornsby are tied for second honors with nine apiece. Carey of Pittsburgh has been setting a sensational pace in base stealing leading with 26, with Grantham of Chicago, second with 17.

Other leading hitters: Gowdy, New York, .316; Young, New York, .316; Roush, Cincinnati, .315; Fournier, Brooklyn, .317; Grishy, Chicago, .355; Grantham, Chicago, .325; Frisch, New York, .325.

WATER CYCLING IS SEASON'S FAD
The water bicycle is all the rage at Atlantic City this season and Miss Marie Davis seems to be having a lot of fun at it.

Billy Evans SAYS

Too much success by the individual, or team, in any branch of sport, takes the edges off enthusiasm.

The constant and consistent winner makes for monotony—tends to kill interest.

One need only to harken back to the Athletics of 1914 for proof positive of such a condition.

Connie Mack, famous manager of that team, broke up his winning combination simply because the public no longer thrilled at its many brilliant performances.

In other words, the club was too good for the rest of the field.

"What was the score today?" Back in the days when the Athletics were winning pennants and world championships, that was the Philadelphia greeting when inquiring about the ball game.

The thought that the Athletics might possibly lose was given only slight consideration.

Instead of inquiring as to who won, the query related to the score.

Philadelphia fans were surprised only when the Athletics were beaten, a victory was expected.

It is the unexpected that makes for interest in any sport. For several years the New York clubs have been hogging the spotlight in baseball. This year the supremacy of the Yankees in the American League is being strongly disputed.

The result, much enthusiasm among the fans of other cities.

At the opening of the present season, the experts picked New York, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis as the strength of the league, the other four teams being classed as the field, with merely an outside chance.

For the first eight weeks of the season the Boston Red Sox thrall ended in 1923, provided the big thrill by contesting every inch of the way with the world champion New York Yankees.

At the beginning of the season Manager Lee Fohl of the Red Sox would only predict that his club would not finish last. He didn't get excited when things were going big, simply clung to his original prophecy, and now that the club has slumped, repeats:

"My team will not finish last."

Just as the Red Sox slump set in, another dark horse, the Washington Nationals, began to set the pace for the rest of the contenders. Washington succeeded in doing even better than Boston by finally ousting the New York Yankees from first place.

Possibly the great spirit of the Washington club will peter out as did that of the Red Sox.

Possibly the New York club will regain its stride, and again show the way, as it has for the last three years.

Possibly the final result will prove that New York, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis was the strength of the field, as the experts predicted prior to the opening of the season.

Even though baseball will have should happen, these things had one of its greatest years in the American League, because Boston and Washington provided a thrill, an unexpected strength that added much uncertainty to the race.

And again, the things may not happen, Washington may stay in front.

LEWIS RETAINS TITLE BY BEATING ROMANO

CHICAGO, July 12.—(Ed Strangler) Lewis, retained his heavyweight wrestling world's championship here last night in a hard fought match with Michele Romano, Italian challenger.

Struggling two hours and 15 minutes in the intense heat of a packed Coliseum and glare of motion picture spotlights, Lewis lost 12 pounds and Romano 11 pounds of weight before the champion, by application of a score of punishing headlocks, wore the challenger down sufficiently to gain the necessary two falls. The contest, in two hours and 15 minutes, and the last in four minutes.

DE PALMA SEEKS REINSTATEMENT

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Ralph de Palma, veteran Italian racing driver, announced yesterday he had applied to the American Automobile Association for reinstatement.

De Palma left the A.A.A. ranks some time ago, and has been driving at Ascot Speedway under the banner of the International Motors Contest association.

VICTORY CAME EASILY

Marshall W. Forrest Not Pressed to Win State Junior Golf Crown

Marshall Forrest of Lowell did not have to play very good golf yesterday to win the Massachusetts Junior amateur championship at the Belmont Spring Country club over Charles MacAndrew of Scarsboro, 4 up and 2 to play, but it was all sufficient. Both boys were shaky, particularly on the outward nine, where Forrest struggled to score a 43, with MacAndrew given two strokes worse off. The Lowell hitter came back on the homeward journey, however, and was only one over 18 for the seven holes played.

With a seven on 11, Forrest was "down" right at the start, but got it back on the third, with a 3 against a 5. He became two up on the fourth, but the fifth, but won the sixth and seventh and was two to the good at the turn. A win on the 11th made him three up and the match was as good as in his right hand. MacAndrew got one back on the 13th, but the Lowell boy grabbed the 14th and 16th and put the championship in his pocket.

Forrest is well qualified to wear the junior state crown, for he long has been considered one of the city's best players and has been very successful in tournament and cup play.

The score of yesterday's final round follows:

Forrest..... 7 5 5 6 4 4 5 4—43

INCOMPARABLE FINNISH DISTANCE RUNNERS COMPETE TODAY

Four More Olympic Finals, Together With Last of Remaining Trials, on Today's Card, Leaving Six Finals for All-Star Closing Bill on Sunday

PARIS, July 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Four more Olympic finals including the decathlon, which was started yesterday, will be decided this afternoon together with the last of the remaining trials, leaving six finals for the all-star closing bill on Sunday, which is always the biggest sporting day of the week in France.

3.00 p. m.—Decathlon (110 metre hurdles) running hop, step and jump, final.

3.30 p. m.—10,000 metres (cross country individual and team race) final. Decathlon (throwing the discus).

3.45 p. m.—400 metre relay race (trials).

4.00 p. m.—Decathlon (pole vault).

5.00 p. m.—1600 metre relay race (trials).

5.30 p. m.—Decathlon (throwing the javelin).

5.30 p. m.—Decathlon (1100 metres flat).

The 10,000 metre run provides two finals, inasmuch as it decides both the individual and team winners, the regular number of points being allotted for each final place. Thus the incomparable Finnish distance runners, Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola, have an opportunity to add 25 points alone to their nation's score by placing first and second in this event. The United States, Great Britain and France are the only other contenders. Each nation has six starters.

The score for the United States now stands four victories and four defeats.

Wrestling Results

PARIS, July 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—In the Olympic catch-as-catch-can wrestling contest today, Courant of Switzerland defeated Charles W. Strack, of Cologne, on points. John F. Spellman, of Bt uni university, won from Wilson of Great Britain, also on points. All four men are light heavyweights.

The score for the United States now stands four victories and four defeats.

Olympic Gate Receipts

PARIS, July 12.—The gate receipts for the 1924 Olympic games reached 4,500,000 francs with yesterday's meet at the Colombes Stadium. Today's receipts and those of the closing day (tomorrow) with the marathon race as a big attraction, are expected by the French committee to bring the total past the 5,000,000 mark.

The tennis, rowing, swimming, wrestling, boxing and other minor events still left to be run off during the coming week, are estimated at likely to produce more than 1,000,000 francs for admission, bringing the total receipts to between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 francs.

FIVE HOME RUNS IN YANKEE-WHITE SOX GAME, INCLUDING RUTH'S 24TH

World Champions Back in Form Hammer Out 12 to 9 Victory Over Chicago—Detroit Wins Three Out of Five From Senators—Giants Continue to Increase Lead

NEW YORK, July 12.—New York which slumped below Washington on the major league board for almost three weeks, finally has recovered and is back in the lead. The Yankees today are jolting in the hope of championship dividends.

Manager Evers of the White Sox audaciously trotted out his new Minneapolis battery, Mangum and Bruns, in an effort to even the series with the Yankees but Evers' men convinced the Trojan in three innings that minor league stars often are major league lemons. Lyons and Schalk succeeded the rookies in the fourth but the world champions kept on hitting and pounded out a 12 to 9 victory.

Ruth's 24th and Falk's blow with the bats choked in the third.

Walter Johnson, after holding Detroit to two hits until the eighth, weakened and Washington lost a 4 to 3 decision to the Tigers. The win gave Cobb's cohorts three out of the five game series.

St. Louis ousted Chicago from fourth place by splitting a twin ball with Boston. The Browns won the first 3 to 1 and lost the second, 7 to 8. Wingers' pitching and timely homer with one on, featured the opener.

Three Cleveland pitchers suffered a

SILESIA DROP ONE TO GARDNER TEAM

In a hard-fought game that kept the crowd on its toes nearly all the way, the Silesia Mills A. A. nine lost to Gardner last night in a twilight game at No. Chelmsford. The Gardner team found its lead closely contested all the way, but a pair of home runs in the fifth seemed to mark the turning of the tide. The score:

DIGNITY AND CHARM IN THIS SIX-ROOM HOME

Plan No. 6432

This attractive six-room home embodies all the features that make a modern home convenient and comfortable. It has a dignity that makes it admired even among larger and more expensive houses. It is ideally suited to a city or suburban location, even to an inside lot, and likewise it will make an admirable home in a country setting. There is a bit of real, old-fashioned charm about the porch, due probably to its colonial character. The porch is roomy and comfortable, measuring 7 feet 9 inches by 10 feet 6 inches. The porch protects the entrance so well that a vestibule really is not needed. The house offers six good rooms, bath, full basement. It is designed to be built of frame construction, with siding exterior, stucco panel in the front wall of the second story, shingle roof, brick chimney and brick base course. If desired the roof can be raised to omit the dormers, making it a full two story house. The exterior can also be succeeded as shown in the house illustrated here. The house can be placed on a lot 40 feet wide—a little less if necessary, and should prove to be reasonable to build. The cost to build this house, including heating, plumbing, lighting, painting, ready to live in, but not including wall decorations, should range between $6500 and $7500. In certain localities where costs are high, the highest figure quoted would be too low. In other localities, the lowest figure quoted would be more than sufficient.

Consult Us Before You Build

A rent receipt is not much of an asset. It is the written permission of the landlord for the occupancy of a few square feet of floor space, for about thirty days,—after that it is valueless.

Why Not Build a Home and Be Your Own Landlord?

The interest on the investment, plus taxes and repairs, certainly would be less than the rent demanded for such a Home as you desire, or the landlord could not afford to invest his money in property to rent. On the other hand, the value of the feeling of ownership of a Home, a safe refuge for yourself and family, and a place to entertain your friends, cannot be estimated.

REAL ESTATE SALES

Thomas H. Elliott

Thomas H. Elliott, real estate and insurance, offices at 84 Central Street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week:

On behalf of Percy H. Knight of this city conveyance has been effected of an excellent building site situated on the westerly side of Stevens street. The lot has an area of 5402 sq. ft. with a street frontage of 50 ft. The conveyance carries with it a foundation already in readiness on the premises. The grantee is J. Alfred Lequin, contractor and builder, who has already commenced on the erection of a modern residential parcel on the site.

Final papers have been sent to record in the transfer of a high-grade four-apartment property at 127-129 Pine street near its junction with Wilder street. Apartments have six rooms and bath each and are modern to the last detail. Land to the amount of $228 sq. ft. carrying an assessment at the rate of 10c per foot is conveyed. The transfer is negotiated on behalf of A. Leo Bernardini of Lawrence. This being the last parcel of Mr. Bernardini's local realty holdings. The grantees are Thomas P. Lano and Bridget Lano, who will continue to hold the property for purposes of investment.

On behalf of Mrs. Francis L. Burnham conveyance is made of two lots of land on the easterly side of Remington street. These lots are attractively located in the finest portion of the Andover street residential section. They have an area approximately 14,000 sq. ft. The purchaser is Willis A. McCoy, the incoming plant manager of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. This increases Mr. McCoy's holdings in this section, to four lots, he having already purchased two lots last month.

Final papers have been sent to record in the transfer of a large tract of land lying between Middlesex street and the main line tracks of the Concord division of the Boston and Maine railroad. The tract has an area of over 100,000 sq. ft. with a frontage on Middlesex street and Middlesex Park as well as on the railroad. As a whole, it makes one of the best manufacturing sites within the city limits. The sale is effected on behalf of the Contikyan Corporation of New York.

The grantee is John A. Simpson of this city. It is made in conjunction with the office of Walter E. Guyette.

BUTTON DESIGNS

The French designers continue to do the most interesting things with buttons, combining them with embroidery and making motifs of them as well as running them up and down in rows.

Jack Daw's Adventure. Chapter 18

The little adventurer went to the kitchen and got a lot of old pieces of bread. When he returned to the deck and threw them out the birds immediately dropped down for a feast. Jack stood back so as not to scare them. It was fun to watch them scamble for the hard crusts.

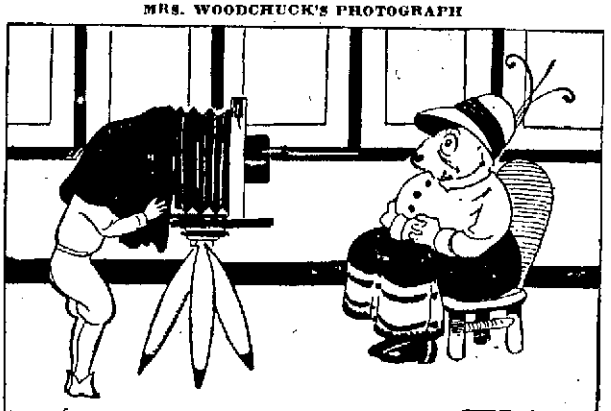

The bread was about all gone when suddenly Flip came tearing out on the deck. He made straightway for the sea birds and there was a loud fluttering of wings as the birds took to the air. Every one of them got away and Flip stood and barked until they had disappeared from sight.

From then on for several days everything was calm and quiet as the sailing vessel sailed along. Now and then Jack would turn in and help scrub deck. The exercise made him feel good. Then, one morning, he found that it had grown much colder and he put on a heavy overcoat. (Continued.)

MICK SET A CHAIR FOR MRS. WOODCHUCK IN FRONT OF A CURTAIN

Happy Go Lucky park was very popular. Nancy and Nick and Mister Zip were as busy as robins after a rainstorm, keeping it in order and having things all spick and span when the word took and meadow folk began to arrive with their pennies and lunches to spend the day.

"Well, I declare!" said Mister Zip one day when he was taking tickets at the gate. "If here doesn't come Mrs. Woodchuck all dressed up in her Sunday best."

"Hoo do you do, Mrs. Woodchuck? How are you today?"

"Oh, I'm pretty well, thank you," said Mrs. Woodchuck, breathlessly, for the groundhog lady was very fat and she had been hurrying. "Here's my

Finally got fat Mrs. Woodchuck to the place where it said "Pictures taken while you wait." And they went in. Nick set a chair for Mrs. Woodchuck in front of a curtain and then went behind a big camera to see how she looked. He put his head under a big black cloth and said, "Turn your head a little. Now smile a little, and show your teeth. That's just right. And now put your eyes up there where that little bird is when they're in my head. I'd like to know," demanded Mrs. Woodchuck.

It took a long time before Nancy and Nick could explain to the groundhog lady that Nick only meant for her to look at the little bird, and that the "Oh, is that it?" said Mrs. Woodchuck. "Well, go ahead then." And she sat down again in a better humor. (To Be Continued.)

TWO HURT IN BILLERICA ACCIDENT

More Records Shattered at Olympic Games

TWO LYNN MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT IN BILLERICA

Driver of Machine That Smashed Into Traffic Beacon and Turned Turtle Arrested on Charge of Operating Motor Vehicle While Under Influence of Liquor

Two Lynn men are in local hospitals and a third is under arrest at Lowell police headquarters charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor as result of an automobile smash shortly after 7 o'clock this morning at Billerica Centre.

The injured men are George Roberts, 14 Ridgeway street, Lynn, at the Lowell General hospital with multiple injuries about the head, and Francis J. Winston, 114 Eutaw avenue, Lynn, at St. John's hospital with a fractured shoulder and two fractured ribs. The man under arrest, the driver of the machine, is Frank C. Blodgett, 66 Union street, Lynn. He was uninjured.

Blodgett was arrested by Chief Henry L. Livingston of Billerica, who also had the injured men sent to hospitals. Chief Livingston says the automobile, a Ford sedan, is owned by Mrs. Jessie Doucette, 344 Chatham street, Lynn, who also was a passenger at the time of the accident, but who escaped uninjured. After running into the traffic beacon at the Centre, the car swerved around the corner into Andover street and turned turtle. Its top and both front mudguards were smashed.

WILL CALL FOR ACCEPTANCE OF THE CONCORD RIVER BILL

Councilor Daniel F. Moriarty this afternoon stated that he will introduce an order at next Tuesday night's session of the city council calling for the acceptance by the city of the so-called Concord river bill, introduced at the last session of the state legislature by Representative Owen B. Brennan.

This bill calls for a study of the odor nuisance of the river at a cost of about $3000 and a report with recommendations, to be made at the next session of the legislature. Under an added clause inserted in the senate by Senator Charles P. Howard of Reading, it is provided that the cost be prorated among Lowell, Chelmsford and Billerica. The survey would take that part of the river from the Fordway bridge in North Billerica to the point in Lowell where the Concord enters the Merrimack.

K. K. K. BRANDED ON HIS BACK

Rev. Oren C. Van Loon, Pastor of Battle Creek, Mich. Church Found

Had Been Missing From His Home For 11 Days—Removed to Hospital

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 12.—Rev. Oren C. Van Loon, pastor of Berkeley Community church, near Detroit, who has been missing from his home for 11 days, was found here yesterday, suffering from heat, exhaustion and with the letters "K.K.K." three inches high branded between his shoulders. Today he is at a hospital in a serious condition apparently ignorant of any of the events that have transpired since his disappearance.

A crowd stood before the mother's West Side apartment when the casket was taken in. Many of the neighbors who on their own initiative had appealed to Queen Mary of England to stay the youth's execution, were weeping.

BOSTON NAVY YARD INSPECTED BY WILBUR

BOSTON, July 12.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today inspected the navy yard here, together with other naval property.

Confirming the fact that until congress appropriates money for new construction and overhaul work, activity at the navy yards will have to be curtailed, the secretary said the monthly allotments to the yard will continue to an amount sufficient to keep it open. It was learned, however, that at least 500 men will have to be discharged shortly.

Secretary Wilbur said the Squantum property, formerly used as a destroyer base would have to be disposed of shortly.

HOLD OUTING AT NABNASSET POND

About 400 men, women and children of the Lawrence Street P. M. church are enjoying an outing this afternoon at Nabnasset pond. The party left this city at 1:30 o'clock in trucks and private machines and arrived at the pond at about 2:30 o'clock. A program of sports and a basket luncheon were planned for the afternoon. Mrs. Alice D. Haire, pastor of the church, was in general charge of the affair and was assisted by Sam Burr, superintendent of the Sunday school; Mrs. Robert Catherwood, assistant superintendent; Annie Hill, treasurer; William Sykes, financial secretary; and Irene Dowrey, secretary.

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY ON WEEK-END CRUISE
WASHINGTON, July 12.—President and Mrs. Coolidge boarded the presidential yacht Mayflower today for a week-end cruise down the Potomac river. With them were the president's father, John Coolidge, who returned with the family from the funeral services at Plymouth, Vt., John, their son, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns of Boston.

All of the family were reported as well rested today, from their trip to Northampton, Mass., and Plymouth, with the body of Calvin, Jr. The trips on the yacht have proved very beneficial to Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, and for this reason their friends today urged them to go down the river for the week-end.

McADOO TO TAKE ACTIVE PART

Will Do All in His Power to Assist in Election of Democratic Ticket

NEW YORK, July 12.—William G. McAdoo before sailing for Europe today said he would give the Davis-Bryan ticket his "cordial support," and that he would take part in the campaign on his return in September.

"I am satisfied that Mr. Davis is in full accord with the progressive program outlined in the democratic platform," he said. "I am confident that as president he would faithfully execute the party's mandate."

Referring to criticism from some quarters against Mr. Davis because of his connections with certain interests as a lawyer, Mr. McAdoo said: "Mr. Davis' high character, integrity and services should satisfy every apprehension of this sort."

"If I did not believe this," he continued, "because I have always believed that the interests of the people should never be subordinated to a merely slavish partisanship. The influence and power of these progressive forces must not be dissipated by division among various political movements; they must rather be consolidated and used like an irresistible battering ram of that party which offers the best instrumentality for service to the people."

Text of Statement
Mr. McAdoo's statement in full, follows:
"Mr. Davis and I have been friends for the last 12 years and I had the pleasure of discussing the political situation with him yesterday. The great body of progressive republicans who supported me so strongly in the convention has been anxious to know my attitude towards Mr. Davis' candidacy. My visit was for the purpose of learning from Mr. Davis his views on the important issues before the country. I am satisfied that he is in accord with the progressive program outlined in the democratic platform."

"Mr. Davis' professional connections and his associations with great banking houses and corporate interests, although considered ethical in every way have raised doubt in the minds of many as to his progressivism and as to his complete sympathy with the great reforms the democratic party must execute if it is to serve the genuine interests of the people. These doubts are not justified because a lawyer's views on economic, political and social questions are no more to be judged by his professional association than is a physician's to be judged by the character of his patients. Mr. Davis should be judged by his opinions, not those of his clients, and by the impression of sincerity and ability he creates in the public discussion of the issues."

"Mr. Davis' high character, integrity and service should satisfy any apprehension of this sort. I am confident that as president, he would faithfully execute the party's progressive mandate. If I did not believe this, I could not render aid, because I have always believed that the interests of the people should not be subordinated to a merely slavish partisanship."

There is deep-seated determination on the part of the progressive forces within the democratic party, and those outside of it desiring to co-operate,

U. S. RELAY TEAM SHATTERS WORLD'S RECORD IN 400 METRE

British Team Had Set New Mark Earlier In Day—Nurmi Scores His Third Olympic Triumph—Argentine Star Sets New World Mark In Hop, Step and Jump

OLYMPIC STADIUM, COLOMBES, France, July 12.—(By the Associated Press) Paavo Nurmi, the miraculous Finnish runner, scored his third Olympic triumph today when he won the 10,000 metre cross country race by more than 500 metres from his countryman, Willie Ritola, with Earl Johnson, the American negro running star, surprising the field with a great race, which gave him third place.

Arthur Studenroth of Philadelphia, and August Paget of the Finnish-American A.C., New York, were the other Americans inside the first ten in this race, which saw many of the field finishing in a state of collapse, after their ordeal under the blazing sun while others staggered across the line, several of them shoeless and utterly exhausted. The effects of the long grind seemed to daze all but the leaders, the runners reeling about the track as they entered the stadium portal and having to be guided in the direction of the finish.

The British relay team broke the world's record in the 400-metre relay race with a mark of 42 seconds flat. The old world's and Olympic record was 42 1-8 seconds.

The United States team broke the world record in the 400-metre relay race, sixth trial heat, making the distance in 41 1-5 seconds, beating the new record of 42 seconds flat made earlier in the afternoon by the British team.

The Americans raced like the wind to clip four-fifths of a second off the mark set by Great Britain in the first heat and equaled in the third heat by Holland. The United States team was composed of Frank Hussey, Stuyvesant High of New York, interscholastic sprint champion; Louis Clark of Johns Hopkins; Loren Murchison, Newark A.C., and Alfred Leconey, Meadowbrook club. They ran in the order named.

Finland won the 10,000 metre cross country event as a nation with 11 points. The United States was second with 14 points, France third, with 20 points. This result gave Finland 25 Olympic points and the United States 10.

Hussey, the schoolboy star, got off to a flying start and handed the baton over to Clark with a lead of five yards over France's team, the other competitor in the heat, Clark gained two yards in his turn and Murchison on the third leg added six more. On the final leg, Leconey increased the margin over France to 20 yards at the finish.

Bruneto, sterling Argentine track performer, sprang the heat, breaking the world's record in the running hop, step and jump with a mark of 15.325 metres, surpassing the record of 14.92 metres made by T. Ahearn of England in 1908.

After the final of the 10,000 metre individual and team race events the totals of points for the two leaders was: United States, 19 3/4; Finland 12 1/2.

Prompted by the terrific strain on the cross country runners competing today under the broiling sun, the Olympic officials announced that the marathon, the concluding feature of the games tomorrow, would start at 5 o'clock instead of 4 o'clock, giving the runners the benefit of the cooler evening weather.

Setback for U. S.
The United States received a severe setback in the preliminary competition in the running hop, step and jump when Mervin Graham, Kansas university, Mack Keeble, University of Missouri and Earl Wilson, University of Southern California were eliminated. De Hart Hubbard, the American negro star, was unable to start in this event because of an injury to his heel.

The cross country run proved the most gruelling event as yet disputed on the Olympic program, only 14 of the 39 starters finishing, 24 falling by the wayside outside the stadium, completely exhausted.

Three of the 15 men who reached the last lap collapsed inside on the stadium.

The entire Swedish team was badly used up since the northerners were not accustomed to such terrific heat. Five members of the team were under the care of doctors from a half hour to an hour after the race.

The Americans stood the test better than any other of the seven nations entered, four of the six men entered finishing. John J. Gray, alone, was practically overcome by the heat. Only three of the Finns finished, Lahmatalen arriving close enough behind Nurmi and Ritola to total up a winning score.

Finland qualified two men for the finals, and Argentina, Australia, Japan and Sweden, one each.

Summaries:
400 metre relay race, first heat, two nations qualify for semi-finals:
Great Britain, first; Greece, second. Time, 42 seconds (new Olympic and world's record).
400 metre relay race, second: South Africa, first; Canada, second. Time, 42 4-5 seconds.
Third heat: Holland, first; Hungary, second. Time, 42 seconds (equalling new world's record).
Fourth heat: Switzerland, first; Italy, second. Time, 42 4-5 seconds. The Argentine team finished third, failing to qualify.
Fifth heat: Sweden, first; Denmark, second. Time, 42 4-5 seconds.
Sixth heat: United States, first; France, second. Time, 41 1-5 seconds. (New world's record.)
10,000 metre cross country race (individual): Nurmi, Finland, first; Ritola, Finland, second; Earl Johnson, United States third; E. Harper, Great Britain, fourth; Lauvaux, France, fifth; Arthur Studenroth, Meadowbrook club, Philadelphia, sixth. Time 32 minutes, 54 1-2 seconds.

DEBS DENIES DAVIS DEFENDED HIM

NEW YORK, July 12.—Eugene V. Debs today telegraphed socialist party leaders that John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee had never defended him nor tendered legal services in his behalf.

"The truth is that I never saw Mr. Davis or had any dealings with him whatever," he message added.

Mr. Debs is taking a rest cure in a Chicago hospital. The telegram was prompted by newspaper reports.

Opportunity to Play Golf

ISLESBORO, Me., July 12.—John W. Davis, the democratic candidate for president, will have an opportunity to indulge in his favorite pastime—golf, if he is able to accept the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson to come here next week for a vacation before plunging into the political campaign. The grounds of the Tarantini Golf club will be available.

The home of the artist is located on Seven Hundred Acre island, just across the harbor from Dark Harbor.

VISITATIONS OF DEATH TO WHITE HOUSE IN PAST ADMINISTRATIONS

Mourning for Young Coolidge Will Put a Damper Upon Social Events at White House—Other Notes From the National Capital

Special to The Sun.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—The death of young Calvin Coolidge brings to mind forcefully the sorrows that have marked the last three administrations, and the deaths in presidential families in administrations, of an earlier date.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson died during the president's first term. Then followed the almost fatal illness of the president on his return from Europe, and which made the White House a home of anxiety and sorrow for many months thereafter.

Shortly after the Harding administration began, Mrs. Harding was stricken with a desperate sickness from which she recovered, after literally facing death. Then the sudden death of President Harding shocked the world. And now the Coolidge administration is marked by the death of their beloved son. Just 62 years ago, President Lincoln suffered the loss of his dear 12-year-old son and if the inauguration of President Pierce had occurred a few days earlier he, too, would have lost by death a son, while serving his presidential term.

A few days before his inauguration, President Pierce was on his way to Boston from his home in New Hampshire, en route for Washington, when the axle of his car broke, the car went over an embankment and the president's son was killed, dying immediately in the presence of his father.

Period of Mourning

The death of young Coolidge will cast a gloom over the official social life in Washington. It has not been announced how long the term of semi-official mourning will last, for the Coolidges have insisted that their loss shall be regarded as strictly personal, and it was only on the insistence of intimate and influential friends that the president consented to have the flag on the White House fly at half mast, and a guard of sailors and marines placed at the head and foot of the casket during the short time it rested in the great East room of the White House. But the death of their beloved son will undoubtedly lessen, if not entirely do away with the customary social functions at the White House next winter.

Democratic senators returning from the New York convention rejoice that the struggles are at an end, and unhesitatingly predict that the wounds caused by the factional differences will be healed long before the election in November and that it will be a far more united party at that date, than will be the republican party, which is split almost to a point of breaking asunder, by the active candidacy of La Follette.

The re-election of Senator David L.

Walsh is fully expected by the democratic leaders now in Washington, even though the national ticket is headed by a New England republican. "Walsh has made good," say the democratic leaders, "you cannot defeat him." The republicans sigh, shake their heads and reply, "Well, we feel he will be a hard man to beat."

Chinese Marriages

Members of congress from California are remarking on the changes in the marriages of eligible Chinese who will be affected by the new immigration laws. It seems that the average young Chinese man, according to reports, prefers marriage with a girl brought up in China and drilled in Chinese ways, instead of the progressive customs of the California white girl, which the California Chinese maidens have been quick to follow. The Chinese girl raised in China is docile, obedient and the family satisfied with a very modest settlement. Not so among the Chinese maidens raised in California. She is a different creature. She has bobbed hair, high heeled shoes, she speaks when, how and as she will, and furthermore her parent requires a much larger settlement. Taken all in all, so say Californians, the young Chinaman, will have to change his own domestic ideas, or remain unmarried, for he can no longer send "back home" for a bride when it suits his pleasure to import one.

John Paul Jones

The 177th anniversary of the birth of John Paul Jones has been celebrated in Washington with appropriate ceremonies at Annapolis where his body lies buried under the dome of the academy chapel.

The ceremony was in charge of the navy department, but was participated in by all the patriotic societies having representation at the capital.

Simplified Spelling

Dr. Gideon, manager of the simplified spelling board has been attending the National Education association in Washington, and made the very interesting statement that the newspapers are using the simplified system in the printing of about a dozen words, which, in the eyes of the advocates of that system, is an excellent record of such a startling innovation.

The number of publications is steadily increasing, so Dr. Gideon states, and in answer to the inquiry why so few words had been adopted under the new plan, he replied that the advocates of the proposed changes believed greater good would result from the very general adoption of a few notable words, rather than through an extreme change of many words by a few newspapers.

The words most frequently changed are as follows:—program, catalog, pedagogue, and words ending with "trough" which is simplified into "thru" and "thoro."

It is believed that the simplified spelling is more in accord with the original form of the words, so its advocates state.

The board is just now waging a campaign, not only among newspapers but among school boards throughout the country. Looking over a list of officers of the board it is noticeable, that while a few eastern names appear, the greater number is from the far or middle west. RICHARDS.

FOUR PERSONS DROWNED IN CONNECTICUT RIVER

NORTHAMPTON, July 12.—Four persons were drowned in the Connecticut river yesterday, within a few minutes of each other. Two were small boys and the others men. All disappeared suddenly and without attracting notice by struggle or outcry. Three of the bodies have been recovered.

George Kelley, 10 years old, and Ernest Arel, aged 12, entered the water near the Connecticut river bridge. Soon afterward a companion coming to join them, failed to find the boys. Both had been drowned. Their bodies were found.

Joseph Sokolski slipped from a rowboat in which he had taken his wife and four children for a ride near Mt. Tom Junction, intending to take a swim. He disappeared. The body was recovered.

Thomas Kostock, attempting to swim a dog across the river near Canary island, suddenly vanished, watchers on the shore reported. His body had not been recovered last night.

CONTINUES ATTEMPTED FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

KASUMIGAERA, Japan, July 12 (By the Associated Press).—A Stuart MacLaren, who happened off with two companions this afternoon for Minato, continuing his attempted flight around the world, was forced to return here by engine trouble which developed soon after the start. MacLaren hopes to start again tomorrow morning.

ETTA LEE IS RARE SCREEN TYPE

N.E.A. Service Writer
HOLLYWOOD, July 12.—Etta Lee, jet and ivory lady of the films, is in her slim person the very substance of the orient—an elusive line, a haunting perfume, a shadowy allure, a strange grace.

Chinese and French by lineage, Hawaiian by birth, semi-occidental in schooling, intelligent, sensitive and expressive in pantomime, Miss Lee presents a rare personality for screen exploitation.

Thus far, although she has given creditable performances in a good many secondary roles, her distinguishing self has not been granted full scope. She has been treated as a type, rather than a rich personality within the type.

By heritage, temperament and the trend of self culture," she said, "I am equipped and moved to depict odd, bizarre, exotic, extravagant gesture-thoughts; to interpret the reality of mood, rather than the realism of fact; to show oriental impulse and emotion."

al complexities. But in this field I have not yet had opportunity."

She tapped an amber-tipped walking stick for emphasis. "If words, sentences, have color equivalent, Miss Lee's matched the soft yellow of her dress."

She had just completed a part in the Goldwyn-Metro-Meyer picture, "One Night in Rome," and, pending the next studio call, was preparing for an interval of public school teaching in Los Angeles.

Her years she has veered from one to the other. Normal school graduate, with teaching experience both in the United States and her native Hawaii, Etta Lee finds no difficulty in combining the two professions. On the island of Kauai she was for a time principal of schools.

Her father is Chinese, her mother French. She is a striking product of that true melting pot of races, the Hawaiian Islands—of which she speaks with intelligent observation.

"The Chinese-Hawaiian has proved a particularly good race combination,"

she commented. "In the islands the Chinese strain is usually paternal. The husbands contribute the seriousness of their people, the native wives the gaiety of theirs. These marriages are the happiest I know of."

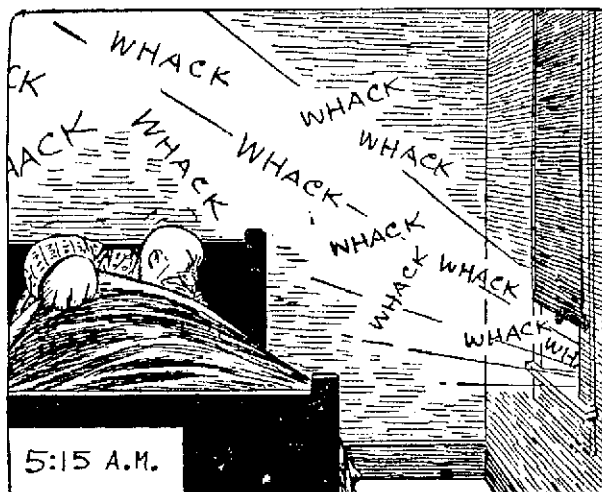

A visit to Hollywood friends put her in pictures. She has appeared in seven, including "Without Benefit of Clergy," her first, as an extra; "The Remittance Man," "Cytherea," the sandboard slave in "Thief of Bagdad," and the one just finished, "One Night in Rome."

Miss Lee's oriental caste is at once an asset and handicap in pictorial progress. Comparatively few roles demand an Asiatic. When such a part appears Miss Lee and Anna May Wong are frequently friendly rivals for it.

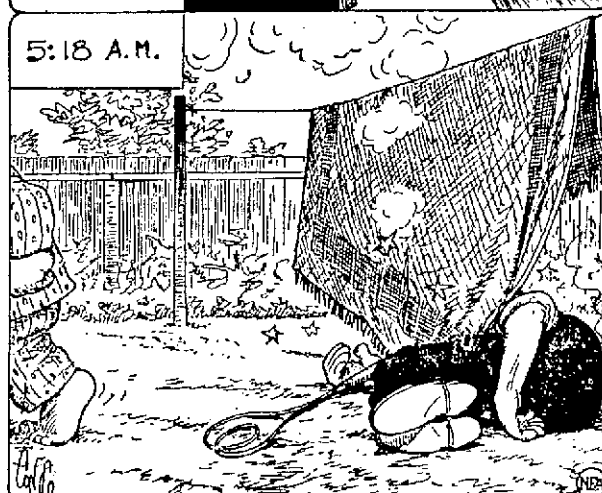

"And, strangely enough," laughed Miss Lee, "although I'm partly Chinese, I've lost several such roles because directors insist that I don't look sufficiently Chinese."

Etta Lee, with her willowy grace, her purple dark hair, deep bronze eyes, old ivory complexion, alert mind and

INDIANS GET VOTE UNDER NEW ACT

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Provided the various states that embrace their reservations will set up the necessary machinery, thousands of Indians will become voters in the coming elections as a result of the citizenship act passed at the recent session of congress.

With the passage of the law every native-born Indian in the United States automatically became a citizen, Commissioner Burke recently estimating the number at approximately 125,000. At least one-fourth of this number, it is calculated, are adults and therefore entitled to vote except in states where the election laws fix certain qualifications, such as educational, property ownership or payment of poll taxes, that the new Indian citizens may not be able to meet.

However, this condition is believed by authorities on the subject to be only a minor hindrance to the newly enfranchised Indians going to the polls, the chief obstacle mentioned being the lack of organized machinery. Most of the Indians, it is pointed out, live on closed reservations located in unorganized counties where there are no officials to provide the necessary ballots, polling places and other election facilities.

Not only the Indians in the particular circumstances described are prevented from casting their votes, but even white citizens living on the reservations have no such opportunity.

In one or two states, however, this condition is said to have been remedied by counties bordering on Indian reservations permitting the citizens in unorganized jurisdictions to cast their ballots in the adjoining counties. More than 200,000 Indians had been made citizens before the passage of the new citizenship act and a large percentage of these are said to be placed in the similar position of not being able to vote solely because the facilities enabling them to exercise this right are not available.

BURROWS YARN A HOAX

Man Who Blamed Ku Klux Klan Members Was Own Torturer

The sensational story told by Nelson B. Burrows, former Rochester, N. H., insurance agent that he had been kidnapped, drugged and branded by men he believed to be members of the Ku Klux Klan, was broken down yesterday when Burrows admitted at a police grilling in Rochester that the yarn was a hoax and that he had tortured himself with the "K" brands and had written a warning letter to a Rochester newspaper man to insure publicity for himself.

The letter in the case was mailed from Lowell and was written on a torn-off corner of a railroad timetable.

At the time Burrows made his story public he was at the home of friends in Lawrence, where he said he had walked from Plattsburgh, N. H., after escaping from a lonely hut after being branded on the chest and forehead. Yesterday he admitted to police that he had secreted himself in Lawrence until the day he told his story.

He branded himself to discredit the K. K. K. organization and also to place himself in the spotlight of publicity.

Burrows' wife was interviewed by a representative of The Sun as she was passing through Lowell from Lawrence to Ayer, the day after her husband made public his story. She did not say whether she believed the story, but declared there was no doubt of the brand marks on his body.

Burrows, a convert to Catholicism, was one of the founders of the Rochester council, Knights of Columbus, but immediately upon his admission that the kidnapping and branding story was a fantastic yarn, the K. of C. organization publicly repudiated him and dismissed him from membership.

ROTARIANS PLAN OUTING FOR CHILDREN

Agent Paul Reed, big chief at Massachusetts cotton mills, and one of Lowell Rotary club's active representatives, is chairman of the committee soliciting the use of members' automobiles for the orphans' outing. Thus far, only about one-third of the membership has returned the appeal cards sent out some time ago by Mr. Reed, regarding the outing of motor cars for the gala event of the season in youthful circles of the fatherless and motherless. The blue notices issued today urge the "missing" Rotarians to send in their "yes" cards next week, so all assignments can be made.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Mrs. Wilke Couldn't Get Back Her Strength Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rochester, Minn.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days' time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women who are suffering like I was will find out about your medicine. I can give any information I possibly can."—Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 333 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minnesota.

There will also be a two-reel comedy, Charlie Chaplin in a feature picture heads the offering list for the second week.

Nomination Papers

Patrick P. Neffor of 348 Stackpole street, has taken out nomination papers for representative from the 14th district, as has Richard J. Donohoe of 25 Arbor Road. City Councillor Daniel F. Moriarty and Paul J. Angelo have commenced circulation of papers for nomination as democratic candidates for representative in the 16th district. Papers newly filed this week at the office of the board of election commissioners at city hall include those of William A. O'Hearn of North Adams, democrat, for lieutenant-governor; Dr. Otis A. Allen, Lowell, republican, for state treasurer and receiver-general; and C. P. Howard of Reading, republican, a candidate to succeed himself in the 7th Middlesex senatorial district.

The Mortality Rate

Thirty deaths were reported locally during the week as against 28 and 29 for the preceding two weeks, the death rate being 12.83 as against 12.91 and 12.87 respectively, figured on a population of 115,758. Eight of this week's deaths were of children under five years of age and seven were of infants. Four deaths were due to infectious diseases, one to pneumonia, one to scarlet fever and three to tuberculosis.

Members of Ancient York lodge of Masons are holding an outing and clambake this afternoon, at Martin Luther grounds. There were approximately 200 in the party that left the Memorial Auditorium at 1 o'clock, in a fleet of automobiles. A baseball game is the high spot of a program of sports scheduled for the afternoon. The clambake and supper will be served by the Page Catering company at 5 p.m.

Albert A. Ludwig, master of the lodge, was in charge of the general arrangements, assisted by other officers and a committee on sports composed of Raymond E. Nichols, Chester M. Runels and James A. Grant.

FOR ASSAULT ON LOWELL OFFICER

Charged with assault with a dangerous weapon upon Patrolman Owen S. Conway of Lowell, Special Officer Timothy J. Lynch of Lawrence was arraigned in that city yesterday and held for the grand jury. Patrolman Conway was called as a witness and told of the events which led up to the shooting on the night of June 25 at the Lynch home in Lawrence. During the testimony of Sgt. Morrissey of the Lawrence department it was brought out that Conway told him at the hospital that he did not wish to prosecute Lynch on the assault charge.

FUNERALS

BERNARD—The funeral of Maurice Charles Bernard, a veteran of the World war, who was accidentally killed at the Billerica carshops, Thursday last, took place this morning at 8 o'clock from the home of Mr. Eldred Chaput, 467 Moody street, and was attended by many friends, among whom was Mr. Joseph Flumand, consul of France, at Boston. A funeral high mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Louis church by Rev. J. B. Labossiere. The church choir under the direction of Otter J. David rendered Von's mass. The service was sung by Jules McRabault, Edouard E. Grogolin, Etienne Barner and Mr. David. The bearers were James and Joseph Tessier, Armand Lemire, Romeo Tessier, Willis L. Pelletier and Edward Guilbault. There were many flowers. The body was placed in the receiving tomb in St. Joseph's cemetery, where Mr. Joseph Flumand, consul of France, expressed his country's gratitude towards the deceased, who had served his country so faithfully during the war. Representing the employees of the Billerica carshops were Messrs. James E. McNeil, James Mann, Isidore A. Tetreault and Wilda Chaput. The funeral arrangements were under the direction of Undertakers Ameece Archambault & Sons.

ing agent for supplying three carloads of A-No. 1 hay to the street department, is making with difficulty in performing the contract satisfactorily.

Mr. Foye today said that about 30 per cent of the hay delivered thus far, about ten truckloads, has been returned to him rejected, upon orders of the superintendent of streets. Superintendent of Streets Harry B. Foye today admitted the rejection and says there is nothing unusual about it—that the contract calls for A-No. 1 choice hay subject to barn inspection and that some of the hay was not up to standard, so returned. Mr. Foye declares the hay is A-No. 1. "The nicest hay I ever laid my eyes on," he said today.

LAWRENCE WOMAN HELD FOR SHOOTING HUSBAND

LAWRENCE, July 12.—Mrs. Maria Concetta, who is alleged to have shot her husband, John Concetta, in Middleton Thursday, where she is said to have followed him because he was with another woman, walked into the police station in the afternoon, accompanied by a lawyer, and surrendered. She was charged with assault with intent to murder and was admitted to bail. Concetta was not seriously injured.

The trouble is said to have started over the fact that Concetta, to whom Mrs. Concetta was married about 10 years ago, was friendly with Miss Bertha Ricard of Essex street, Middleton. According to neighbors, the Ricard woman had visited at the Concetta home.

Thursday Concetta met Miss Ricard and they drove together to Middleton. Mrs. Concetta, accompanied by her mother, hired an automobile, and was driven in it by Anthony Calvagna to Middleton. At Middleton Miss Ricard went into a house to get her breakfast and Concetta remained in the machine outdoors. He was there when his wife arrived.

According to the Calvagna boy, Mrs. Concetta and her mother jumped out of the car and almost immediately he heard two shots fired and saw Concetta fall to the ground. He could not say whether Concetta fell from the car or got out before the shooting.

After the shooting Mrs. Concetta is said to have assisted her husband into the machine and brought him to the Lawrence General Hospital. He was hit in the right shoulder and in the left upper arm, neither wound being of a serious nature. On the way to hospital according to Concetta, his wife expressed her sorrow at what had happened.

Later Miss Ricard was arrested on charges of being idle and disorderly and of driving an automobile without a license. It is alleged that after the shooting she drove Concetta's car to this city.

Home Circulation is Best

Advertisers who use The Sun consistently get greater returns on the money invested than through any other Lowell newspaper. There's a reason. The Sun goes into more homes in Lowell and suburbs than any other Lowell paper and ninety per cent of Sun readers read no other Lowell newspaper. Furthermore, ninety five per cent of The Sun circulation is confined to the city of Lowell and immediate vicinity.

SEC. WILBUR VISITS NAVAL PRISON

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 12.—Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, accompanied by a number of naval officers, visited the Portsmouth Naval Prison today. The secretary was accompanied by a number of naval officers, including the commandant, and a number of other officials. The visit was part of a tour of the prison, which is one of the largest and most modern in the United States. The secretary was shown the various departments of the prison, including the kitchen, the laundry, and the workshops. He also met with the prisoners and the staff of the prison. The visit was a very successful one, and the secretary was very impressed with the work of the prison.

OFFICERS PLAY "TAG" WITH AUTOMOBILES

Over 150 automobiles were "tagged" last night on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard by motor registry and local police officers for violation of the headlight law. The officers were on duty from 10 o'clock to 11 o'clock. The automobiles were tagged with a small tag which reads "TAGGED" and "N. H. REG. 1924". The officers were very busy last night, and they tagged many more automobiles than they did the night before.

The Lowell Memorial Auditorium has a seating capacity of 4000. Imagine the Auditorium filled to capacity 20 times and you will get some idea of the number of people who read the Sun daily, and 90 per cent of the 80,000 readers of The Sun take no other Lowell newspaper.

THE... Kelvinator

"The Ice That Never Melts"

Think how pleased you would be if you could place a block of ice in your refrigerator now that would last all summer long.

A KELVINATOR placed in the ice chamber of your refrigerator will maintain an even temperature (colder than possible with ice) and free you of warm weather worries over the preservation of food.

Our own men, factory trained, are constantly installing Kelvinators in ever increasing numbers in residences in all sections of the city and surrounding towns. Let us quote you figures.

ORGANIZE TO FIGHT DAY-LIGHT SAVING

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, July 12.—The fight over the daylight saving question is apparently going to live up at once, with regularly incorporated organizations favoring retention of the present law and others insisting upon its repeal.

Today a committee of those opposed to the law met at the state house and selected several of their number to act as an "organization committee" to perfect and develop the working organization, under the name of the Federated Standard Time Committee. Those selected today for this work include Ernest H. Gilbert of Stoughton, master of the state grange; Judge J. Albert Brackett of Boston, representing theatrical interests, into the business of which the daylight saving plan has out deeply; John Chandler of Sterling, president of the Massachusetts Farm Bureau; Frank Symonds of Worcester, representing the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Ernest Makechelle, a Boston school teacher. The friends of daylight saving have already effected an organization as a corporation and are now engaged in developing it into local units of workers in all parts of the state. They are known as the Daylight Saving Association of Massachusetts, Inc., of which the president is Walter J. Powers, a Boston attorney who, as chairman of a special committee of the Boston chamber of commerce, has had much to do with the legislative fight during the past few years on the question. Other active workers include Claude B. Davidson, president of the Twilight Baseball League; A. Lincoln Filene, a prominent Boston merchant; and Ashton L. Carr of Melrose.

In the articles of incorporation the purpose of the association is given as "advocating daylight saving, increasing its benefits to the people of Massachusetts, imparting such information and education as may be necessary or desirable in order that they and others may derive from it the greatest possible good, and co-operating with persons engaged in agriculture and other pursuits to promote their welfare under and by virtue of daylight saving."

TICKET TAKER SAVES MAN BY NOVEL STUNT

HULL, July 12.—William F. Marshall, ticket-taker at Pemberton wharf, pulled a rescue stunt yesterday that made several scores of persons gasp, for their eyes, look again and then emit long-drawn sighs of surprise and relief.

As the Mayflower was being warped in, a passenger tried a jump from an upper deck to the wharf. He tripped and did a head dive for the space between the dock and the boat. As he passed Marshall, the ticket-taker made a grab for him. He got hold of an ankle and swung the passenger up on the dock.

Apparently panic-stricken, the man hurried away from there. Marshall was overwhelmed with congratulations for his stunt. He formerly was a policeman and is a "hustler."

AIR MAIL SERVICE

Letters Destined for Foreign

Countries Will Be Accepted for Transmission

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Letters, or articles sent as letters, destined for foreign countries, will be accepted for transmission by the air mail service operating between New York and San Francisco, the postoffice department announced today.

To countries to which the United States domestic letter rates apply, the special air mail service rates will be sufficient, but to all other countries the rate will be the air mail postage plus the international letter rate of five cents for the first ounce or fractional ounce, and three cents for additional ounces or fractional thereof, less the domestic rate of two cents an ounce or fractional thereof.

Letters destined for countries to which the United States two cent rate does not apply, will require 11 cents for the first ounce, and nine cents for each additional ounce from the first zone, and 17 and 24 cents from the third zone.

SAYS READJUSTMENT IN TRADE IS UNDERWAY

WASHINGTON, July 12.—An important readjustment of business conditions characterized by decreases in industrial and trade activity and lower prices were declared by the federal reserve board last night to be under way throughout the United States.

The board called attention to reduced earnings by industrial workers with a consequent curtailment in their buying power and sharp decreases in production. The lowered prices have carried to every commodity except food, which remains almost unchanged.

A considerable expansion of production during the early months of 1924, the board said, "was followed by important curtailment in certain industries, in response to a lessened volume of current purchases and a hesitancy on the part of manufacturers in placing forward orders. In fact, there has been in recent months a larger decrease in production of certain commodities than in their current consumption, and in consequence stocks of these commodities have been reduced."

"The recession in business activity has been accompanied since April by a decreased demand for credit for commercial purposes, and this, together with the continued inflow of gold imports, has brought about an unusual ease in the money market. The decrease in the volume of commercial borrowings, however, has been less than the additional purchases of investments by commercial banks, so that the total of member bank credit in use is not only larger than at the beginning of the year, but larger than in any previous period."

The board says the earnings assets of the 12 federal reserve banks were lower than at any time for six years. They were approximately $225,000,000 below the figure of the same date last year.

Prices of commodities at wholesale dropped more than a full 1 per cent, averaged in May and a greater drop appeared in June. The general level, with the exception of food prices for May, the board reported, was 6 per cent below the level of May, 1923.

MAN FOUND DEAD ON B. & M. TRACKS

HAVERHILL, July 12.—Ira Ellis, aged 33, was found dead with his skull crushed on the Boston & Maine tracks at Ward hill this morning by J. T. ## At Merrimack Square Theatre Next Week

"Peter the Great" coming to the Merrimack Square theatre for the first of the week bill, is a Paramount film, rated at the head of the Photo-play Magazine's "Six Best Pictures a Month." It is spoken of in the same breath as "The Covered Wagon," "Passion," and "The Four Horsemen," and is known as the Russian "Birth of a Nation."

Marvelous acting is its outstanding feature. No better proof of this could be offered than the fact that practically every stage and screen star of prominence in New York made it a point to see it when it was shown in the metropolis. It is the story of the love, intrigues, heartbreaks, and courage behind the rise of Russia, to become a world power, and centers around the famous romance of the czar with a lovely peasant girl, Mil Jannings and Vagney Servas. The celebrated continental beauty, as seen in the leading roles, New York raved over "Peter the Great." Come and see what you think about it.

"Tiger Love" is the contemporary feature of the bill at this cool and pleasant playhouse. It is another Paramount production, giving Merrimack Square patrons two features by this great artistic producing company at one performance. Antonio Moreno and Estelle Taylor are brought forward as co-stars in a story rich in the romance and fire of old Spain, and one of the most dramatic tales ever transferred to the screen. It portrays the life of a modern Robin Hood, one of whose lieutenants captured the beautiful daughter of a rich aristocrat and carried her off to his mountain stronghold. The picture builds to a smashing climax, and the whole tale is one of the kind which you have awaited for so long.

THE WALL STREET BUGABOO

The phrase "Wall Street" is now used as a political bugaboo to arouse prejudice in the minds of those who may not realize that since the establishment of the Federal Reserve system in 1913, Wall street has lost its power to create panics or to contract or inflate the currency as it had done for many years. Wall street is no longer a menace to the country or the people. It means only an aggregation of bankers and stockbrokers who carry on a legitimate business under the control of law. They represent capital in the socialistic sense; but in reality they are merely financiers who have to meet all the business contingencies that confront business men in general. The Federal Reserve law has given the currency the elasticity necessary to meet the demands of legitimate business however great.

But Wall street before the passage of the Federal Reserve law could contract the currency simply by tightening its purse strings and refusing to grant loans. Then when a vast number of business concerns were forced into bankruptcy, Wall street could buy their properties for a fraction of the actual value. On the other hand, if Wall street wanted to create a business boom, it could do so by freely granting loans on reliable security. In this way it could readily stimulate business previous to an election and thus delude the people into support of the republican party from which Wall street of the olden time secured most of its privileges. Indeed Wall street in those days controlled congress and state legislatures, but today it controls neither. Nor today, as formerly, can it start a boom to return the republican party to power. The Federal Reserve system put an end to that. This piece of legislation enacted within the year in which President Wilson was inaugurated, has overthrown the dangerous power of Wall street and stands ready to grant loans on reasonable security to every business man regardless of party or political considerations. If Woodrow Wilson never did anything else for his country, the fact that he was instrumental in establishing the Federal Reserve system, entitles him to a national monument and the undying gratitude of the American people.

It becomes the republican press or republican politicians, the erstwhile pawns of the old and wicked Wall street, to sneer at John W. Davis as associated with the moneyed interests. True, he has been engaged as counsel by big business concerns in Wall street, but he is neither the tool nor toady of any business interest. His demonstrated sympathy for the West Virginia miners in their fight against the operators shows that he is not a man who can be bought or controlled by any of his clients. His high character and eminent ability stand as proof of his independence, and if further proof be necessary, it can be found in abundance in his record of service to his party and his country as democratic congressman, statesman and diplomat.

It was not without cause that Speaker Gillett paid a glowing tribute to John W. Davis on the latter's departure from congress in which he was highly esteemed by the members of all parties. Speaking of Mr. Davis Mr. Gillett said:

"We all admire him and trust him as a man of sound judgment, of broad culture and learning, of high character and the most charming personality, and I am sure that while he is at the Court of St. James the very lofty standard that has been fixed there by a long line of great Americans will not be lowered and that the exacting demands of this momentous crisis will be adequately met."

So far as Davis was concerned the high expectations of his fellow citizens as to his ability were fully realized by his service in every office to which he was called.

HOUSE RENTS ADVANCED

The nation's rent bill continues to rise, according to the latest country-wide survey of the housing situation by the National Industrial conference board of New York city. Taking the United States as a whole, the increase amounts to an average of 55 per cent in the last ten years. In the last four months, the increase was three per cent and in the last twelve months it was nine per cent.

The conference board giving out these figures is the research organization for the leading industrial associations of the country, and finds that in the rent advance, the east and middle west lead. New York city's increase in the same period was less than 10 per cent, while other important cities showing large increases were Boston, Buffalo, Newark, N. J., Pittsburgh, Rochester and Syracuse.

In the east, rents increased in 31 cities. In the mid-west, 25 cities reported increases whose averages ranged up to 30 per cent. Twenty of these cities had increases of 10 per cent or less, the list including Akron, Chicago, Cincinnati, Detroit, Milwaukee, Louisville, St. Louis and Minneapolis. Most of the leading cities in the far west showed average increases of 10 per cent or slightly less.

The survey reveals that in only one section of the country today—the south—have there been more decreases than increases in rentals since last winter.

RIVAL HIGH SCHOOLS

The United States bureau of education, of the department of the interior, has made available for the first time, reliable facts as to the extent to which farmer children are being educated in high schools. There are many facts revealed that should interest school superintendents and educators in general right here in Middlesex county.

Complete returns from the states of Maine, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Montana and Oregon show that 5.15 per cent of the total farm population are enrolled in high schools as compared with 3.55 per cent for the non-farm population. In these states, it is significant that through centralization of high schools, more than 90 per cent of all high schools serving farm children are comprehensive four-year high schools, while in the two states where lower percentages of the farm population are enrolled, more than 50 per cent of all high schools serving farm children are small one, two or three-year high schools.

Decidedly higher percentages of girls are enrolled from both farm and non-farm groups. On an average, the percentages of girls enrolled are more than one-third higher than for boys. It would appear, then, if education is worth anything for productive work, either we must depend more and more upon our women to do the productive work of the world, or we must find some solution for the problem of getting our boys into the schools in larger numbers.

SLAVING OF INNOCENTS

Autos in New York City in a year kill 413 children under 16 years of age and injure 11,252. The victims over 10 include 464 killed and 21,916 injured.

With very few exceptions, these accidents could have been avoided by proper caution on the part of both motorists and pedestrians. With car registrations increasing swiftly, compulsory caution is inevitable—probably by gearing machines down at the factory so they can't exceed a speed of 15 miles an hour.

IMMIGRATION BARS

Only half as many Italians packed up and left their homeland in 1923 as was the yearly average 1900 to 1913. American immigration bars are only partly responsible, for South America stands wide open.

The Italians plainly are confident that the future looks promising in their own country, despite war debt and problems. A curious angle is that, out of 348,000 who left Italy last year, 143,000 moved to France.

Elkhon in Massachusetts and the United States is a great institution. Lowell is proud of the local lodge of the order which made such a splendid showing in the Boston parade. The members reflected credit upon their city and won honors all along the line. The local lodge is to be congratulated on its recent progress, particularly on the opening of its splendid new quarters on Warren street. We congratulate the Elks and wish them unbounded prosperity in their new quarters.

The Lowell delegates who voted for Senator Underwood as candidate for president on the 103 ballot have no apologies to make. Senator Underwood is a very able man and in every way qualified for the high office of president. It happened that the stampede for Davis was started soon after the opening of the 103rd ballot, but the delegates who voted for Underwood did not see fit to change as did some others who voted for less distinguished candidates.

It is significant that the American Bar association, in session in Philadelphia, passed a resolution urging congress to change the date of the presidential inauguration from March 4 to the third Monday in January. This change is very desirable in order to give more prompt effect to the will of the people.

Jimmie Healin, Molodov's manager in this city, gives out an interview that savors very much of sour grapes. He talks to a republican paper as if he contemplated jumping the political fence, but the loss of one vote would not cause the democratic party to go into mourning.

SEEN AND HEARD

Salesmen use appearance more often than name-cards.

Boston sure was painted purple Thursday.

The Elks have nothing on their minds now except plans for that outing.

The fellow that doped out the phrase "Hip, Hip, Hurray" sure was a futurist.

A Thought

Who upon earth could live were all judged justly?—Byron.

Practical Chemistry

"Coal exposed to the elements loses 10 per cent of its weight and power," said the lecturer. "This is due to the action of the elements on the coal." "But what if there is a dog sleeping near the coal?" interrupted a student. "None of your levity, young man. This is a serious matter." "What?" "That's what I thought when 72 per cent of the coal had been bought and appeared during three nights of exposure. Then he asked my advice as a student of chemistry, and I told him to buy a dog. He bought a dog with bay-window teeth, and now he doesn't lose 10 per cent of our coal a month. That's practical chemistry."

Just Did It, That's All

The scene of this little incident was laid in a malting town "out West." It was one of those little groups of shacks that sprang up so rapidly, almost overnight, when any new deposit of gold were discovered. Two prospectors had met in the "saloon" to have a drink and a chat when the day's work was done. "I hear that what ails you is Casey's saloon last night and shot four men," remarked one man to the other as they sat over their drinks. "What for?" asked the second man. "What for?" replied the other. "His saloon last night that darn civilization that a fellow's got to give a reason for every little thing he does?"

She Enjoyed the Show

Miss Elizabeth Marbury was criticizing the modern theatre. "After all," she said, "the public gets what it deserves in the way of a theatre. I was talking to a young matron at a dinner party the other night. 'I went to see the new tragedy at the Grand Opera yesterday,' she said. 'Ah, yes,' said I. 'It's full of wonderful new ideas. They tell me.' 'It is that,' said she. 'I noticed a cloth of silver evening gown made in absolutely straight lines—the new medieval cut, you know—and there was a coffee in monkey fur that I shall certainly copy. The skirts, too, were absorbing—so long and light—you'd hardly believe the change from last year.'—Detroit Free Press.

Too Good to Miss

It was the club's annual fishing contest and two dozen fishermen were taking part. One of them had brought with him a stone jar containing half a gallon of something stronger than water. The contest had been in progress for an hour when the owner of the jar remembered a friend at the extreme end of the line of contestants. In a moment of generosity he called a boy and told him to take the jar to Mr. Robinson, with a request that he should "have a pull." The boy departed, and was about so long that the generous one felt quite overcome with thirst when he at last reappeared and eagerly raised the jar to his lips. "Why, it's empty!" he cried, in dismay. "Please, sir," said the lad, "they was all Mr. Robinsons when I asked."

A Grain at a Time

May Shaw was the domestic recently discussed and engaged by Mrs. Tootum for the housework of "Kings-view."

Appropriately enough, May, as well as being Shaw, was exceedingly slow. She did all her work to the accompaniment of hymn tunes and, what is more, they were always the most mournful and could not be hurried. One morning the girl was told to fill the cruet and, according to her usual custom, she was a very long time laying the table for dinner for some very special visitors, grew impatient.

"May, you've been a long time filling that cruet," remarked Mrs. Tootum sternly, when at last the long-sought vision appeared.

"Yes, ma'am," was the reply. "I've had an awful job getting the pepper through their little holes in the top of the pepper box!"

Exiled

"Woe to the man who takes two wives! Woe to the landsman who loves the sea!"

But woe to that man a hundred-fold, Gives his heart to two countries!

I lie awake twixt three and five. When the dawn is gloomy gray, And the maple leaves are shivering With waiting for the day.

And I dare not think of Sussex, Or how I shall find my way home, Where the chalk-lands gleam like snow.

Nor how the hills of Berkshire Ride west into the sun; Nor how the lanes at Appleton Down to the marshes run.

Nor how the lights of Waterloo Spring up in the blue sky, While dark and broad and solemn, The Thames goes sweeping by.

And now I'm back in England I need never wake and find Remembering the chalk hills Under a wet-gray sky!

But this morning's dawn came whispering A faint, sad charm: A blue, maple shadow Upon a white, wood farm.

(Woe to the man who has taken two wives! Woe to the landsman who loves the sea! But there's neither peace nor sleep for the man Who has given his heart to two countries!)

—TNA ELIAS-FERMON in the Atlantic Monthly.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Vacation time—play time. It is with great satisfaction indeed that anxious mothers see their children playing about under the interested supervision of the playground directors. The municipal bathhouse also offers healthy, safe recreation with proper instruction in the swimming art by congenial life-savers. So-called. The swimming pool of the Pawtucket boulevard is the mecca for hordes of children and grown-ups seeking relief from the heat of the sun-baked pavements.

Among the many "favorites" at the swimming pool is the ever smiling police officer in charge. The idol of the youngsters, he provides many cherished moments as he allows the younger children to adore his stature, his "shiny buttons," his "propagating badge," and all the "junk" he has in his "hat," as expressed by one of the youngsters, referring to the policeman's club.

I am told that more ice cream is being sold this year than in any previous time. With the hot weather prevailing, the demand for refreshing sweets has increased.

Fish statistics show every fish weighing over 60,000 pounds has escaped nine times this summer.

Women can keep secrets. A man seldom knows he is going to be married until it is time for him to know.

QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Lawrence Cummings enjoyed a trip to Bar Harbor and the White mountains 25 years ago.

Mr. Joseph H. Choquette and Miss O. Jean were united in marriage July 10 at St. Jean Baptiste church by Rev. Fr. Perron.

Wild West Show Buffalo Bill and his wild west show were in Lowell with all the special features for which the aggregation was noted, including the mail van of the olden times and the little army of Indian scouts. Buffalo Bill was himself, however, the main attraction.

His was a crack shot and his performance in this respect excited the wonder of many of the military marksmen of Lowell. Buffalo Bill died some years ago and the wild west show which he organized and conducted for many years, soon dropped out of existence, although wild west features were afterwards carried by some of the big circus companies.

The Kissing Bug Among the pests that visited Lowell was a poisonous kissing bug by which many persons were stung about the face. As many as a dozen parties were treated at local hospitals because of having been kissed by this particular bug. Although this bug has long ago disappeared, there are still at large quite a number of "kissing bugs," whose touch, however, is not quite so poisonous as that of the particular insect that visited us some 25 years ago.

Miss Helen A. Whittier, president of the Middlesex Women's club, lectured before the Hexton club of Somerville on "English Cathedral."

The Lowell Photographers held their annual outing at Willow Dale with a large assembly of their relatives and friends. A. H. Sanborn, one of the old time members of the craft, was secretary of the organization. J. S. Marlow was treasurer and R. E. Westcott president.

From the old Sun: "The first man to enlist in Col. Rice's regiment for the Philippines was T. J. Dalton, 253 Worthen street. Major Foot, the recruiting officer, had scarcely opened his office on Haver street, when a strap-ping young man knocked at the door, entered and gave the military salute in faultless style. In the course of questioning by the officer, he gave his name as Thomas J. Dalton, a native of Waterford, Ireland. He had been through the Cuban campaign as a member of the 2d regiment of infantry and took part in the fighting in Santiago from the first to the tenth of July, 1898."

Okland Firehouse According to the old Sun, the board of aldermen on motion of Alderman Wilson, voted to erect a new firehouse for the Okland district. For several years the firehouse had not materialized, and the vote taken 25 years ago had been forgotten, so that it was necessary for a subsequent city council to take up the matter and see it through. The new firehouse in the Oklands has only recently been completed.

Hon. Charles H. Allen, assistant secretary of the navy, returned to Lowell July 13, 1919.

Fierce Thunder Storm The old Sun has an account of a fierce thunder storm on the night of July 12 in which a Tyngsboro barn belonging to Oliver B. and Z. M. Planted, at the junction of Varnum avenue and Country club road, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Thirty head of cattle perished in the conflagration.

THE OLD TIMER. crensed and equally so for the tempting and delicious ice cream which is adequately nourishing when one is inclined to eat a heavy meal. Children especially seem to be taking to ice cream this season rather than buying peanuts, candy, popped corn and such other treats.

It is not very often that one has the opportunity to see dead, abandoned game. Although out of season for pheasant hunting, I found a dead pheasant while tramping through the woods recently. It was one of the prettiest I have seen. The tail feathers, russet, chestnut brown, yellow and burnt orange, made as pretty an end piece as one could desire. The bird was unusually large and had apparently been shot and slightly wounded and then managed to make its escape only to bleed to death in a forsaken spot in the woods.

DIES IN SWIMMING POOL PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 12.—Albert Gould of Central Falls was found dead yesterday in the pool of the Pawtucket-Central Falls Y.M.C.A. Doctors said that the 17-year-old boy had died from heart trouble.

SMART HAT The smart hat of the moment is of may returned better.

TIMBER AND FARM LAND MENACED BY FIRES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Forest fires are burning today in five western states and on Redonda Island, R. C., constituting varying degrees of menace to timber or farm land. Precipitated by the drought of unusual severity, which is widespread on the Pacific coast this season, the forest fire hazard is proving one of the worst in the history of the forestry service.

Fires have been reported from Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon, in addition to widespread and menacing outbreaks in California. Three national forests in California at present are threatened by blazes that have as yet resisted efforts to control. One on a 25-mile front has been burning a week in the Sequoia national forest, a second is in the Tahoe national forest, where in the Forest Hill divide section a blaze which started Wednesday is out of control and in the Santa Barbara forest fire is spreading along the Elizabeth valley country.

Densities of other blazes in scattered areas up and down the coast have been reported. Volunteer fire fighters under forest rangers, are striving to check the spread of the flames. In several danger zones additional forces are being recruited.

EGYPTIAN PREMIER SHOT IN RIGHT HAND

CAIRO, Egypt, July 12. (By the Associated Press.)—The Egyptian premier, Said Zagloul Pasha, was wounded in the right hand by a revolver shot at the railroad station here today when about to leave for Alexandria.

The premier was walking along the platform between the sub-governor and the acting commandant of police amid cheering crowds when a young man fired at him from behind the front rank of spectators and then threatened the police commandant.

The assailant was rescued with difficulty from the crowd and was placed on the train, while Zagloul Pasha was removed to his home.

FORMAL OPENING OF THE GREEN LANTERN

The Green Lantern, formerly the Pawtucket Hall House, was formally opened last evening, when the members of the City club held a most successful dancing party. The hall was cleverly arranged with green and white streamers. Members of the Haverhill Girls' club attended the opening.

An enlarged program of summer activities by the club necessitated larger quarters and a few months ago was purchased and a few months ago was devoted to club activities, principally dancing parties, dinners and social affairs.

The lower portion of the boat house previously used for the storing of canoes and boats, is being renovated and will be used for classrooms where domestic science classes will be conducted by the club during the winter months. The office and reading room will also be on this floor. The bowling alleys will remain the same, as will the upper floor.

Last evening's affair was one of the many summer parties to be held and practically every member of the club was present with relatives and friends. During the dancing favors were distributed and at intermission refreshments were served.

Those in charge of the affair were: General manager, Miss Sadie Melanson; favors, Miss Anna O'Neill; decorating, Miss Mary Martin; Miss Scraphine Leblanc.

GREENHALGE PLAYGROUND

The first weekly entertainment at the Greenhalge playground was held yesterday afternoon and was largely attended by the parents of the participants. A fine program of costume dancing, folk dancing and singing was given. Group and solo dance numbers were also on the program. The program follows:

Jazz Dance, Dorothy Rourke; Graceful Walk, Margaret Terry; Skirt Dance, Alice Lebrun; Song, Billy Boy; Donald Lawrence, Lillian Therrien; Star Dance, Nora Finn; Clap Polka, Helen Dudley, Marion White; Russian Dance, Marion Egan; Songs, Select, Francis Allan; Buck and Wing, Dorothy Rourke; Irish Jig, Nora Conlon; Group Folk Dance, Group I—Theresa Sears, Lucille Chenevert, Jeannette Langlois, Pearl Laverne, Yvette Chouinard, Evelyn Fortin, Donald Laverne, Lillian Therrien.

Group II—Mary Nash, Mary Quintal, Claire Martel, Alice Langlois, Juliet Lussier, Jeannette Lussier, Bernadette Gilbert, Germain Dion; Group III—Dorothy Fortin, Aline Aubert, Louise Paillet, Dorothy Larkin, Shirley Davies, Yolande Chenevert, Helen Dudley, Marion White.

GAS CO. ESTABLISHES MANY AGENCIES

The Lowell Gas Light Company has established agencies throughout the city where customers may pay their monthly bills.

This service is in line with the policy of the company to do what it can at all times for the benefit of its customers, and replaces the agencies formerly conducted by the American Railway Express Co.

The agencies have been established at centrally located points where it is deemed they will be of the greatest benefit.

Canoeing

There's nothing much doing so let's go canoeing and loaf on a mirror-like lake. It's restful, at best; you can go as my guest, and a trip down a streamlet we'll take. We enter the boat and we set it afloat; then I paddle serenely along. You nestle in pillows and then to the willows that droop on the shore, sing a song. The katydids call in a note that is clear and the whippoorwills whistle their tune. You shortly discover that nature is here and you're lost in its realms pretty soon. The breezes are blowing a lily that's growing nearby and it hearkens to you. We glide to the thicket where gently you pick it to take in our tippy canoe. 'Tis all 'magination; a one-day's vacation, and quiet and silent you've sat. The boat and the stream are, in truth, just a dream, but I'll bet you feel better, at that.

ON A GIRDLE

That which her slender waist confined Shall now my joyful temples bind; No monarch but would give his crown, His arms might do what this has done.

It was heaven's extremest sphere, The pale which held that lovely deer! My joy, my grief, my hope, my love, Did all within this circle move.

A narrow compass! and yet there Dwelt all that's good, and all that's fair. Give me but what this ribbon bound, Take all the rest the sun goes round!

—Edmund Waller.

You Can Do It Better With Gas

Pay Your Gas Bill

Agency Nearest Your Home

Owing to the fact that the American Railway Express Company has been obliged, because of an ever increasing business, to discontinue collections for the Lowell Gas Light Company, agencies have been established in various parts of the city where gas bills may be paid. This is in line with the endeavor of the company to give the best of service to its thousands of consumers.

This service is instituted at no cost to our customers. In order that advantage may be taken of the discount allowed, payment should be made on or before the due date on the face of the bill.

The location of the nearest agency to any customer's home may be determined from the following list:

W. Calise, Aiken and Moody Streets. J. A. Osgood, 576 Merrimack Street. Butler's Drug Store, 345 Middlesex Street. T. C. Walker, 505 Middlesex Street. Fred Jones, School and Branch Streets. Philip Laporte, 48 Mammoth Road. Nelson Hill, North Chelmsford. Horace C. Page, Westford and Pine Streets. Marlboro Pharmacy, 600 Westford Street. L. T. Steeves, Lincoln Square. J. J. Garden Portraiture

The past two summer seasons have each shown an increased demand delightfully pleasing "pictures."

Especially adapted to portraits of many automobiles need "touching up" with paint and varnish. Cars are sometimes operated in sections of the country where weather conditions are continually bad for the varnish of even the best hard enamels, and the nearest paintshop is usually called upon to bring the automobile back to its proper place in the good looking automotive division of the city and country traffic routes.The very best possible work in both automobile and carriage painting has always been done, and is still being done regularly and in increasing volume, at the popular headquarters of J.

O. Leclerc, corner of Moody and Pawtucket streets, right over the well known Moody bridge garage. The Leclerc house of painters, all professionally expert, and who know just what is demanded when tarnished cars are brought in for refurbishment, has a host of delighted customers' names on its books.Motor vehicles and carriages are brought from all sections of New England to the Moody and Pawtucket streets painting establishment run by Manager Leclerc, whose work is second to none. There has been a demand of late for heavier glossing of motor car bodies, both of the expensive and cheaper lines. All work performed at the Leclerc establishment comes up to expectations invariably. No one any-impart a new and long-lasting surface to the motor cars sent to their well-equipped paint establishment.No painting establishment catering exclusively to the renovating of both motor cars and carriages, has a finer established reputation. Anyone in need of advice on "painting up" the old car, or having the new one "toned up," should see Leclerc and ask his advice.

If you can't pay a personal visit to the big auto painting establishment on before the motoring public. Automobiles in want of "extras," additional tires and tubes or new parts such as pistons, piston rings and wrist pins, can find them here—in ample selection and variety at all times and in quantities of the very best, first, last and all the time.Manager Harry J. Roche has met immense success in the venture that he conducts in a strikingly enterprising way at 139 East Merrimack street. It is "service," for one thing; but the great variety of accessories and parts that is carried to help out the motorist suffering from mechanical troubles, is one of the best things about this enterprising shop right across the way from the new Memorial Auditorium.

The Merrimack Auto supply station also provides the best gasoline and motorists' favorite oils—best qualities, pure goods, prices right always. Air is furnished free for the tubes that need replenishing. The handy telephone

LOWELL TOWN TAXI

Telephone 7096 is on one of the busiest call lines in the Lowell central wire communication territory, and No.
7096 is about the busiest "phone on that wire. There's a reason for making this statement. It is the number most folks ring up hastily when they want a taxi to take them to the railroad station, the lodge meeting on a rainy night, to church on Sunday or to that outing down the river with the rest of the folks who cannot get any other way. There are still many people who manage to have no motor cars of their own and cannot depend upon street railway or railroad connections, preferring Lowell Town Taxi service for quick moves from place to place.Lowell Town Taxi service is beyond criticism. No concern handling public transportation in this city or vicinity, provides better accommodations and service for patrons. Responses to all calls are prompt; trips are made to all destinations in the quickest line

HIGHEST GRADE OF
STANDARD TIRESThe Boston Auto Supply company, 96 Bridge street, is never undersold.
"The path of satisfaction leads to our door" is the motto. Service at this busy house of merchandising offers a multitude of automobile accessories of all wanted varieties and best solutions. And the company serving automobiles all, from excellently located headquarters on Bridge street, is never undersold.Today the Boston Auto Supply company is advertising highest grades of standard tires. There are the famous Diamond N. S. Titan cord, the Diamond fabric, and the 32x1 Diamond No. S. cord tire, the best at the price, which is $22.00. The fabric sells for $20.00 today, the Titan cord for $18.50, excellent in qualities both of them and long-mileaged.Many motorists are now using the latest "super fuel," "Boyette," which gives more mileage, takes out all carbon and makes gasoline higher test. Three cans, treating 30 gallons of gas, cost but one dollar.The Bridge street accessory store carries today a full line of the famous Continental motor parts, Borg & Beck clutch parts, also, among other popular selections for both trucks and pleasure car. Sintex oil is featured, with a five-gallon can selling for $3.75.
The variety of tire covers distributed by the Boston Auto Supply company is also large, and this concern employs official headlamp adjusters.PLANTS AND FLOWERS OF POPULAR DEMANDIt is always a pleasure to visit the elaborate greenhouses of Haynes the florist, located at 1328 Gorham street, opposite the Edison cemetery. Growers of potted plants and cut flowers—the Haynes establishment, in every department, always offers a variety of wonderful things in nature's best offerings in floral products, providing in ample measure for customers' varied and discriminating demands.The Gorham street greenhouses have been so long established, that little extensive advertising is necessary nowadays, although it is able management invariably maintains steady publicity campaigns in favorite channels such as The Sun. At this time of the year, bedding plants are in demand to replenish and renew the garden and lawn beds where early-blooming plants may have completed their season's offerings of beauty and delight. It is time, too, to prepare for the season when bulbs must be set out to remain in the ground through the winter months in preparation for early growing and first blooming next spring.The Haynes greenhouses are prepared as usual to take care of all orders for the coming year's garden innovations and expert advice is always given when garden-planners want information concerning best floral displays to suit surroundings which they are to beautify in the future. A visit to the Haynes conservatories on Gorham street, will pay excellent dividends in satisfaction when customers learn how to select the best there is in the splendid line of plants.
Cut flowers for every occasion are always a specialty here, too, as thousands of customers know.SPORTING GOODS FOR THE OLD AND YOUNGPopularity has rested long upon the banners of the George H. Bachelder establishment—dealers in motorcycles, bicycles, children's vehicles, sundries and supplies and general sporting goods of many and various popular labels.
"Ride a Bicycle" is a regularly posted slogan posted in prominent position near the entrance of this store on handy-to-reach Post Office avenue. And what a big variety of finest bicycles there is to be found at this wide-awake, up-to-date sporting goods house, to be sure!The famous "Indian" makes, the "Crown" and the "Hartford" with the long and lasting reputation; also the "Red Wings," and all on display all the time, inspections bringing quick orders and delighted purchasers.
The Bachelder concern has always given expert service with every bicycle —a feature that has won a host of patrons and kept them faithfully praising the name of Bachelder. It is easy to ride a "bike"—healthful—easy to pay.
Too. Terms are very reasonable at Bachelder's, and "anyone can ride a bike and pay for it at the same time," who wants to.Only the finest and sturdiest of children's vehicles, sundries and supplies are carried here in Post Office avenue.
There are few sporting supplies in extra-line supply this season, baseball goods selling excellently and supplies for outdoor exhibition games of many varieties of exuberant popularity, also being regularly kept in stock for quick selection and purchase. The Bachelder telephone number 1758, is a handy aid to getting a line on the Bachelder
stocks.AUTHORIZED FORD SALES AND SERVICEThis is the height of the season in the automobile sales world, and, as usual, the popular Ford is in great demand in all sections of the land and across the seas. This year has been a record-breaking one for the Ford Motor company of Detroit. Weekly production was the largest ever known, and while there has been a seasonable let-down in full-speed manufacturing during the past few weeks, the coming month will see the Detroit plant back on the regular schedules of normality.
The demand for the products of the Ford brand will never cease, apparently, just as the man who designed the automobile that became the world-leader in sales and service, claims.
There is a Ford for every human use, for pleasure-riding, trucking and for agricultural pursuits.The Olcott Motor company at 19-25 Arch street, opposite the Middlesex street railroad station, has recorded a splendid sales and service business since it opened the new and handsome distributing department early this year.The slogan carrying good advice in the Olcott advertisements in The Sun reads: "Order Now and Avoid Future Delay." As this is an authorized Ford sales and service establishment, it is an excellent place for prospective Ford car owners to visit. The telephone number is 7353.Curious salesmen attend to customers' every want and every accessory required by Ford owners can be found here at this up-to-date sales house.

"BIB" FALK OF CHICAGO WHITE SOX NOW LEADS LEAGUE BATTERS

Sensational Drive That Produced 14 Hits in Seven Games Rush White Sox Outfielder to Leadership With Average of .372—Ruth Second

CHICAGO, July 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—A sensational drive that produced 14 hits in seven games, rushed "Bib" Falk, Chicago White Sox outfielder to the leading position of the American League with an average of .372, according to average of games through Wednesday, released today.

Falk was fifth a week ago with .345. Although his hitting was confined to spaces within fences, five blows were two-huggers. He is showing no inclination to relinquish the lead.

Babe Ruth is clinging to second place with .365, with Jameson of Cleveland third with .353. The idle Boone of Boston is up among the pacemakers with .351, followed by Cobb of Detroit in fifth place with .345. Goslin of Washington and Sheely of Chicago, have been doing some telling work with their bats and Harry Heilmann of the Tigers, who set the pace almost since the start of the season, is getting no worse.

Ruth added four home runs to his collection, bringing it to 24.

Cobbins of Chicago has not much competition on the bench, the White Sox captain having pilfered 21.

Other leading batters: Goslin, Washington, .344; Sheely, Chicago, .338; Heilmann, Detroit, .337; Prother, Washington, .333; Mostell, Chicago, .332; Menzel, New York, .331; Collins, Boston, .331.

The hitting in the National League has been consistent. The leaders remain undisturbed with Hornsby of St. Louis showing the way, with .352. Wheat of Brooklyn, batting second, with .379, and Snyder of the Giants, third with .354. Kelly of the Giants, fourth with .351. Bressler of Cincinnati, grabbed off a flock of hits before Daubert returned to the game and the substitute first-sacker of the Reds therefore figures among the first five with .340.

Although Fournier of Brooklyn has been swinging a mean club in long-distance hitting, he has averaged in general average. Fournier has connected with 18 homers, while Williams of Philadelphia and Hornsby are tied for second honors with nine apiece. Carey of Pittsburgh has been setting a sensational pace in base stealing leading with 20, with Grantham of Chicago, second with 17.

Other leading batters: Cowdy, New York, .346; Young, New York, .345; Beach, Cincinnati, .345; Fournier, Brooklyn, .337; Grishy, Chicago, .335; Grantham, Chicago, .325; Frisch, New York, .325.

WATER CYCLING IS SEASON'S FAD

The water bicycle is all the rage at Atlantic City this season and Miss Marie Davis seems to be having a lot of fun at it.

Too much success by the individual, or team, in any branch of sport, takes the edges off enthusiasm.

The constant and consistent winner makes for monotony—tends to kill interest.

One need only to harken back to the Athletics of 1914 for proof positive of such a condition.

Connie Mack, famous manager of that team, broke up his winning combination simply because the public was no longer thrilled at its many brilliant performances.

In other words, the club was too good for the rest of the field.

"What was the score today?" Back in the days when the Athletics were winning pennants and world championships, that was the Philadelphia greeting when inquiring about the ball game.

The thought that the Athletics might possibly lose was given only slight consideration.

Instead of the query related to the score, Philadelphia fans were beaten, victory was expected.

It is the unexpected that makes for interest in any sport. For several years the New York clubs have been hogging the spotlight in baseball. This year the supremacy of the Yankees in the American League is being strongly disputed.

The result, much enthusiasm among the fans of other cities.

At the opening of the present season, the experts picked New York, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis as the strength of the league, the other four teams being classed as the field, with merely an outside chance.

For the first eight weeks of the season the Boston Red Sox, tail-enders in 1923, provided the big thrill by contesting every inch of the way with the world champion New York Yankees.

The beginning of the season Manager Leo Pohl of the Red Sox would not finish last. He didn't get excited when things were going big, simply clung to his original prophesy, and now that the club has slumped, repeats:

"My team will not finish last."

Just as the Red Sox slump set in, another dark horse, the Washington Nationals, began to set the pace for the rest of the contenders. Washington succeeded in doing even better than Boston by finally ousting the New York Yankees from first place.

Possibly the great spirit of the Washington club will peter out as did that of the Red Sox.

Possibly the New York club will regain its stride, and again show the way, as it has for the last three years.

Possibly the final result will prove that New York, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis was the strength of the field, and the experts predicted prior to the opening of the season.

Even though all these things should happen, baseball will have had one of its greatest years in the American League, because Boston and Washington provided a thrill, an unexpected strength that added much uncertainty to the race.

PASSED UP BY COBBI

Ehmke is Called "Greatest Pitcher" — Would Just About Put Tygers Across

By N.E.A. Service
BOSTON, July 12.—Pitcher Howard Ehmke of the Boston Red Sox, discarded by Manager Terry Cobb of Detroit as lacking major league caliber, today looms up as the most valuable twirler of the American League.

Last season Ehmke, with a tall-end ball club, won 20 games, a most remarkable record. Among his victories were a no-hit game against Philadelphia and a one-hit affair against New York.

This season Ehmke has set 25 victories as his goal, and with a good break in luck believes he has a chance to win 30. With the season half over, he has passed the half-way mark in the goal.

"Ehmke has the greatest assortment of stuff of any pitcher I have ever caught," says the veteran Steve O'Neill, who has handled some of the game's greatest pitchers.

"His great amount of stuff, plus a batting delivery, makes him the toughest bird in the game to solve."

"I never heard an American League player say that he liked to hit against Ehmke. That gives him quite an edge from the start."

Ehmke, pitching as he is for Boston, would be a real help to Detroit in its present pennant fight.

ANDERSON WINS ON THE HAGEN SPIRIT

By JOE WILLIAMS
Johnny Anderson, veteran New Yorker, has won his first national golf championship. Still, his victory over Earl Hagen was only mildly surprising.

Anderson hardly ranks with Jones or Quilley in form and skill but he is a star just the same. Since 1910, when he qualified first as a national tournament performer, beating, among others, the noted Walter Travis, Anderson has been a fairly conspicuous figure in American golf.

In 1913 he was good enough to go to the finals before Jerry Travers turned him back 5 and 4. Again in 1915 he reached the finals, losing this time to Bob Gardner by the same score.

Anderson, incidentally, was picked to win from Gardner, for the Yale youth had been carried to the thirty-seventh green the day before by Max Norstam and the experts figured he had spent most of his energy.

Anderson is hardly a picture of poetic rhythm in action. You'd never take him for a student of Yogi Bessie's. His outstanding golf characteristic is his fighting ability and temperament. What Hagen is to the professional field in this respect Anderson is to the amateurs.

Chick Evans once told the writer how he would rather play any other golfer in the game than Anderson.

"It isn't hard to beat him," said Chick, "but it is hard to make him realize when he is beaten."

Evans probably rates from five to eight strokes stronger than Anderson, yet the struggle between the two have always been fought with uncertainty.

It took all the skill and science Evans could command to win from Anderson at Brookline two years ago by a single hole. It was a hard-fought match, close to the finish. Anderson put Evans out of the national championship back in 1913. This was also a cat and dog fight, the end coming on the thirty-fifth green.

Nor does Anderson happen to be Evans' strongest rival. Anderson is tough for all the stars. They can beat him all right but they can't make him say enough.

America did well in the golf championships abroad this year. Walter Hagen won the British open title today, beating Earl Hagen and Johnny Anderson.

Anderson is a veteran New Yorker who has been playing in the big tournament for years. This, however, is his first major triumph.

BLACK GOLD FAVORED IN CHICAGO DERBY

CHICAGO, July 12.—Black Gold, Kentucky Derby winner and early victor in the racing handicap here yesterday, carries the hopes of the west in today's Chicago Derby at Hawthorne, a gallop of a mile and a quarter for a purse of $15,000 added.

Nine survivors of the training grind from an original entry list of 50 are scheduled to go to the post in a contest that has resolved itself into a battle between east and west.

JOHNNY SHEPPARD WINS OVER JOE LYNCH

BOSTON, July 12.—Johnny Sheppard of Woburn, scored an impressive victory over Joe Lynch, former lightweight champion of the world, in their 10-round bout, at the Boston Arena last night. From first to last Lynch, with the possible exception of the last two stanzas, was the aggressor and when Lynch undertook to make a dash as the contest was nearing the end, he was so badly used up that he could not long sustain a violent effort.

WINNER TO MEET BILL TILDEN AT ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—(By the Associated Press).—To determine which of the two California stars who have survived the singles play of the national clay courts tennis championship should meet the champion, William Tilden, 11, of Philadelphia, in the final match, Clarence J. "Pek" Griffin of San Francisco and Harvey Snodgrass of Los Angeles, fought it out today on the courts of the Triple A club here.

The defending champion, with a mighty stride stepped into the final class yesterday, defeating Brian I. C. Norion of St. Louis in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

Robert and Howard Kinsey, national doubles champions, easily advanced yesterday through third and fourth round play into the finals.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

If you want the final decision on any baseball dispute, write Billy Evans, N.E.A. Service, 1200 W. Third street, Cleveland, O.

Questions
1. Visiting team scores five runs with no one out in the first inning. Relief pitcher stops the scoring during the rest of the inning. The final result of the game is 5 to 3 in favor of the visitors. At no time during the game did the home team get on even terms with the visitors by tying the score. Which pitcher is charged with the defeat?—L. M. P.

2. Last half of the ninth, the score is 0 to 0, when home team gets two men on with no one out. Visiting manager sends in relief pitcher. Batter hits single, scoring the winning run. Who is charged with the defeat?—L. M. P.

3. Batsman hits ball back at pitcher. It is deflected off his glove, striking the umpire, but is recovered by the second baseman in time to retire the batsman at first. What is the correct decision?—B. D.

Answers
1. Pitcher who permitted visiting team to score five runs. First inning is charged with defeat, even though final score is 5 to 3. Had the home team tied the score at any time during the game, and then lost 5 to 3, relief pitcher would have been charged with defeat.

2. Pitcher who put the two runners on bases, making possible for winning run to be scored on a base hit, is charged with the defeat.

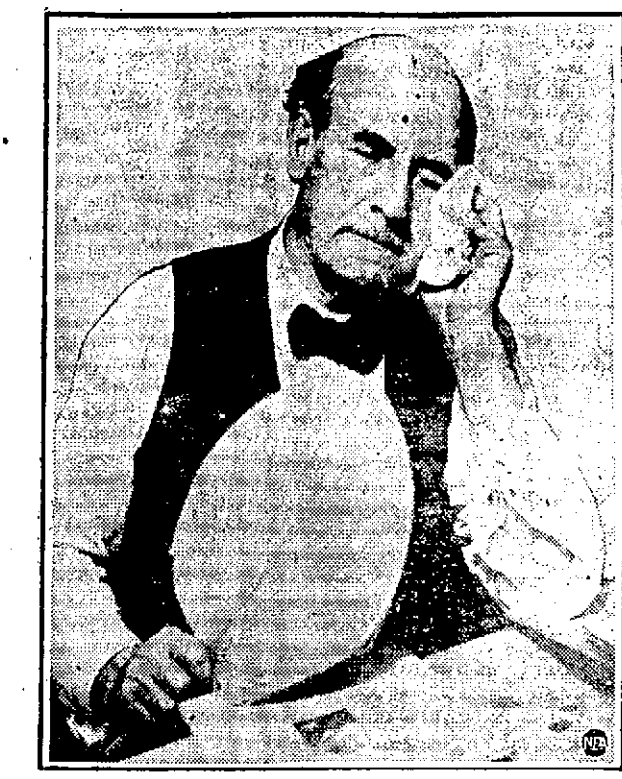

3. Batter is out at first even though ball struck the umpire. The pitcher made a play in the ball, the fact that it later struck the umpire is given no consideration, the ball being in play.

BASEBALL GAMES THIS AFTERNOON

Two baseball games in which there is considerable interest are being played this afternoon. On the North common the Hudson A. A. is playing the Eastern A. A. on the South common the Dixon Six team is arrayed against the Lawrence A. A.

Hudson and Emerald are rivals and the game will not be won by either side. The Eastern A. A. has been out. Normandin is on the mound for the Emeralds and "Red" Green is pitcher for the Hudsons.

The Dixon Six has an advantage over for the year, having won 17, lost five and tied one game. Their opponents also have a good record and this game is considered one of the principal encounters of the season.

CUSTOMERS TESTIFY IN REDMOND CASE

BOSTON, July 12. There was considerable testimony by witnesses who claimed to have lost money through dealing with the firm of F. F. Redmond & Co., Inc., at the trial of Redmond yesterday before Judge Lowell and a jury. In the federal court here, charged with use of the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Charles W. Bellows of Revere testified that he bought stock of the Redmond concern on the partial-payment plan; that he got in arrears in payments and was sold out without warning.

Norman L. Skene of Bedford alleged that he bought stock on the same plan and asked for its delivery, but it was not ready; that when he called for it a week later he found the office had been closed by court order.

Miss Jennie E. Whiting of Somerville alleged that she bought through Withington & Co., a subsidiary of the Redmond concern, $2500 worth of stock, and that a week later the office was closed and she had not received her stock.

Harry P. Blake of Concord, N. H., a partial-payment customer, contracted an account of $2500 and continued to pay up to the time the Redmond firm failed. He declared they had always kept their agreements with him.

Norman G. Russell of Providence said he bought on the partial-payment plan, fell short on payments, was then put on margin and finally sold out when unable to meet agreed payments.

Herman J. Hayon, accountant, in charge of work in the case for the receivers, testified that the fact that certain books of the firm were missing made the study of the accounts concerning the deal with the Redmond concern difficult and that he had been told by Jarvis & Co., H. M. Williams, Cassidy, Murray, Casey, O'Malley, E. M. Hamlin and Simmons. Court adjourned till Tuesday.

TREAT FOR DANCERS AT THE COMMODORE

The dancing public of this city is in for a big treat on Monday night at the Commodore ballroom on Thirtieth street when Ray and Sheehan, exhibition dancers of national fame will appear. Mr. Ray and partner are not new to the Lowell folks as they have appeared in this city on a few past occasions. They will bring with them many new steps and dances and anyone interested in dance should not fail to attend. On the same program with Ray and Sheehan, Miss Louise Fontaine of Lowell will introduce her new French novelty with new steps at the harbor entrance yesterday was reflected early today. She proceeded for Quebec, where damage to the front of the truck was suffered in a collision last month off Cape Race, will be repaired.

30,000 ORANGEMEN APPEAR IN PARADE

BELFAST, July 12.—Thirty thousand Orangemen, including members from America, paraded through the decorated streets of Ulster's capital today in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the battle of the Boyne. There was a general holiday and much enthusiasm.

STRANDED LINER IS REFLOATED

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 12.—The Canadian Pacific liner Melikana which went ashore at the harbor entrance yesterday was refloated early today. She proceeded for Quebec, where damage to the front of the truck was suffered in a collision last month off Cape Race, will be repaired.

VISIT THE BATTLEFIELDS

500 Professors and Students of U. S. Colleges Guests of Belgian University

BRUSSELS, July 12.—Five hundred professors and students of Harvard, Chicago, Montreal, Toronto and other North American universities who have been visiting the battlefields of Flanders, were guests of the Belgian University Federation club at a banquet last night. After seeing the sights of the capital, they plan to leave for Paris to attend the Olympics.

EPINARD APPEARS TO BE DEFICIENT IN MUSCLES

NEW YORK, July 12.—American race track men who have seen the French horse Epinard since his arrival are generally agreed that the chestnut four-year-old is not carrying enough flesh to be at his best. It was observed that there were creases in his hips and his ribs showed rather plainly, making him seem deficient in muscles in the hindquarters.

Epinard was worked out today at Belmont Park for his first exercise on American soil in preparation for his series of three races in this country. Eugene Leigh, his trainer, admitted that Epinard was "a bit raw" because of his having been out of training for more than ten days.

"He'll have to get off his sea legs first," said Leigh, "and the work at Belmont Park will be very light. He'll have to get his legs and a walk in the afternoon. We'll probably go to Saratoga about the middle of the week and the air and water up there ought to do him a lot of good. I look for him to come to the top of the form before his first race."

Epinard's first race at Saratoga, will be a six furlong spring, probably on Labor day. His second event will be a mile race at the Aqueduct track. The third will be a mile and a quarter run at Latonia.

TWO HELD FOR STARTING FOREST FIRE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Two men were under arrest at Newhall, near Los Angeles, and two others were being sought on charges of having started a forest fire which since Wednesday has swept thousands of acres of bush and timber in the Santa Barbara national forest.

Continued improvement in the forest fire situation was reported from western Washington points.

CITY DETECTIVE SHOT IN POLICE STATION

NEWARK, N. J., July 12.—William Nestor, city detective and former football star of Rutgers college, was seriously wounded today by an unidentified man who fired two bullets into his abdomen after walking into police headquarters and announcing that he wanted to report a holdup. Pursued through all the building the assailant was twice wounded before he was captured.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK SEA-PLANE RECORD FAILS

NORFOLK, Va., July 12.—Another attempt by naval flyers to remain in the air 24 hours in a new type of long distance scouting seaplane, failed early today when Lieut. George C. Allen and Lieut. J. H. Smith were forced down after piloting their craft for approximately 13 hours on a 15 mile triangular course.

The duration of their flight fell about 20 minutes short of the seaplane record established by naval flyers at Washington last month, when the same type of plane stayed in the air 13 hours and 23 minutes in another 24 hour flight attempt.

LIQUOR CASES BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

William L. May, Luke Hoban and Thomas F. Hoban were arraigned this morning before U. S. Commissioner Richard B. Walsh, charged with violation of the federal prohibition laws. They were held in continuance under bail until July 22. At the arraignment all three were represented by Atty. Dennis J. Murphy. Their arrests followed the service search warrant by Agent Lacava, issued by Commissioner Crandell of Worcester for the Richardson hotel premises in Middlesex street.

Daniel A. Connell of Tyngsboro, charged with illegal sale and possession of cider, was held this morning by the commissioner in $500 for federal court. In ordering Connell held, Commissioner Walsh overruled a point brought up a week ago by Atty. William A. Hogan to the effect that cider was not included in the provisions of the Volstead act.

K.K.K. BRANDING CASE DROPPED

ROCHESTER, N. H., July 12.—No further official action will be taken by state or county officials in the case of Nelson Burroughs of this town, who, on June 30, at Lawrence, Mass., told a story of being kidnapped by members of the Ku Klux Klan, being detained for two weeks and then turned loose after being thrice branded with the letter "K." It became known through the police here yesterday.

Burroughs was cross-examined at Concord Thursday by Attorney General Irving A. Hinckley and county officials. The interview lasted through most of the night, and after it the attorney general gave instructions to take no further action.

TRUCK SMASHES FOLEY

Early today an automobile truck owned by Samuel Scott tobaccoist, and operated by John M. Breaker, struck an electric light White Way pole at the corner of Middlesex and Elliott streets, breaking it off at the damage. The front of the truck was damaged somewhat but the driver was uninjured.

HUGHES SAILS TODAY

Secretary of State to Visit London and Paris While Away on Month's Trip

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A month's absence from Washington at least two days of which will be spent in Paris, is planned by Secretary Hughes on the visit abroad for which he is sailing from New York today on the Berengaria with the American Bar association's delegation to the international meeting of lawyers in London. It was announced at the state department before the secretary's departure that after remaining in London from July 21 to 25, he would go to Paris to be the guest of the French bar for two days.

FARMER DIDN'T KNOW SON WAS HIDING IN GRASS—LOSES HAND AND FOOT

LEEDS, N. Y., July 12.—While cutting hay with a horse-drawn mowing machine, yesterday, William Van Vechten, farmer, ran down his 24-year-old son Charles, who was hiding in the tall grass. The child's hand and foot were severed and physicians said he probably would die.

ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT OF THE O. M. I. CADETS

Final arrangements for the annual encampment of the O. M. I. Cadets at Milligan's grove from July 23 to Aug. 2 were made at a meeting of the Cadets in the Sacred Heart church last night.

The Cadets were organized about 18 years ago at the Immaculate Conception church by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., and were organized at the Sacred Heart church about a year ago when Father Sullivan was appointed pastor of that church. The encampment will be the first of the Sacred Heart group.

The encampment will be under the general supervision of Francis Garahan, military instructor of the Cadets, and he, with the engineering company, will prepare the grounds on July 27. The regiment, accompanied by a trained staff of nurses, instructors and officers, will leave this city at noon the 28th.

Among the features of the encampment will be a series of talks on aviation by Bartholomew Sullivan, a Lowell boy on duty on the dirigible "Sheenadoah."

The encampment is open to boys between the ages of 8 and 18 years and any desiring to attend should register immediately.

The last meeting of the Cadets prior to the encampment will be held next Wednesday night at the church, at which time final orders will be given and transportation arrangements made known.

The roster of officers of the regiment follows:

Francis D. Reardon, major; Francis Carey, adjutant; Edward A. Sullivan, quartermaster; Francis Powers, staff captain; Edward O'Sullivan, first staff lieutenant; John Leary, Harold Ford and J. Hadden, second staff lieutenants; P. Sullivan, sergeant major; T. Horgan, quartermaster sergeant.

Co. A, Francis J. McCabe, captain; F. Winn, 1st lieutenant; Leo Desmond, 2nd lieutenant; Thomas Horgan, 1st sergeant; Robert E. Coughlin, 2nd sergeant; J. Campbell, 3rd sergeant; W. Crank, R. McCusker, J. Donohue, E. Donohue, corporals.

Co. B, Eugene Sweeney, captain; Daniel Liddy, 1st lieutenant; W. T. Tully, 2nd lieutenant; John Horgan, 1st sergeant; William Pearson, 2nd sergeant; Charles Gannon, 3rd sergeant; L. Murphy, J. Cullinan, W. Dockett, T. Lyons, corporals.

Co. C, George Twomey, capt.; H. Downing, 1st lieutenant; Dennis Curtin, 2nd lieutenant; Henry Gilles, 1st sergeant; Charles Bassett, 2nd sergeant; J. Handley, 3rd sergeant; D. Sullivan, F. Conway, H. McCabe, H. Broderick, corporals.

Co. D, John Halleran, capt.; Edward Kennedy, 1st lieutenant; Charles Kildine, 2nd lieutenant; John Masser, 1st sergeant; Edward L. Walsh, 2nd sergeant; P. Gorrigan, 3rd sergeant; H. Gavin, A. Campbell, F. Muldoon, corporals.

Co. E, John Neary, capt.; John Higgins, 1st lieutenant; Phillip Monaghan, 2nd lieutenant; John Graham, 1st sergeant; J. Merion Nugent, 2nd sergeant; John Neylon, 3rd sergeant; G. Valliere, W. Flanagan, F. O'Sullivan, J. Carragher, corporals.

RUM PIRATES MAKE $750,000 HAUL

NEW YORK, July 12.—Following the report from Halifax that the French steamship Mulhouse was boarded off the New Jersey coast two weeks ago by rum pirates, who took a cargo of liquor valued at $500,000, prohibition officials here yesterday received word that a second ship also was boarded by pirates, who killed the captain and threw his body overboard.

The identity of the steamship was not revealed, but it was said to be also of foreign registry.

The raids were directed by one of the biggest bootleggers in the country, according to the report, in retaliation for the cutting of rum prices by the foreign ships.

The liquor seized in the raids was brought to New York for marketing, and the second ship was said to have consigned of whiskey, brandy and cordial valued at more than $250,000.

French consular authorities at Halifax are investigating the raid reported by Capt. Ferriere of the Mulhouse, which put into Halifax Tuesday.

ACCEPTS CALL TO BILLERICA CHURCH

Rev. Arnold R. Perrin of Lowell, has accepted a call to the pastorate of North Billerica Baptist church, and will take up his new duties about Sept. 1. He was recently ordained after being graduated from Newton Theological seminary. He is to succeed Rev. Chester J. Armstrong, who resigned last May.

DIGNITY AND CHARM IN THIS SIX-ROOM HOME

Plan No. 6438

This attractive six-room home embodies all the features that make a modern home convenient and comfortable. It has a dignity that makes it admired even among larger and more expensive houses. It is ideally suited to a city or suburban location, even to an inside lot, and likewise it will make an admirable home in a country setting. There is a bit of real, old-fashioned charm about the porch, due probably to its colonial character. The porch is roomy and comfortable, measuring 7 feet 9 inches by 10 feet 6 inches. The porch protects the entrance so well that a vestibule really is not needed. The house offers six good rooms, bath, full basement. It is designed to be built of frame construction, with siding exterior, stucco panel in the front wall of the second story, shingle roof, brick chimney and brick base course. If desired the roof can be raised to omit the dormers, making it a full two story house. The exterior can also be stuccoed as shown in the house illustrated here. The house can be placed on a lot 40 feet wide—a little less if necessary, and should prove to be reasonable to build. The cost to build this house, including heating, plumbing, lighting, painting, ready to live in, but not including wall decorations, should range between $6500 and $7500. In certain localities where costs are high, the highest figure quoted would be too low. In other localities, the lowest figure quoted would be more than sufficient.

A rent receipt is not much of an asset. It is the written permission of the landlord for the occupancy of a few square feet of floor space, for about thirty days,—after that it is valueless.

Why Not Build a Home and Be Your Own Landlord?

The interest on the investment, plus taxes and repairs, certainly would be less than the rent demanded for such a Home as you desire, or the landlord could not afford to invest his money in property to rent. On the other hand, the value of the feeling of ownership of a Home, a safe refuge for yourself and family, and a place to entertain your friends, cannot be estimated.

REAL ESTATE SALES

Thomas H. Elliott, real estate and insurance, offices at 54 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week:
On behalf of Perley H. Knight of this city conveyance has been effected of an excellent building site situated on the western side of Stevens street. The lot has an area of 5362 sq. ft. with a street frontage of 50 ft. The conveyance carries with it a foundation already in readiness on the premises. The grantee is J. Alfred Lequin, contractor and builder, who has already commenced on the erection of a modern residential parcel on the site.
Final papers have been sent to record in the transfer of a high-grade four-apartment property at 127-129 Pine street near its junction with Wilder street. Apartments have six rooms and bath each and are modern to the last detail. Land to the amount of 228 sq. ft. carrying an assessment at the rate of 10c per foot is conveyed. The transfer is negotiated on behalf of A. Leo Bernardini of Lawrence. This being the last parcel of Mr. Bernardini's local realty holdings, the grantee is Thomas P. Lane and Bridget Lane who will continue to hold the property for purposes of investment.
On behalf of Mrs. Francis L. Burnham conveyance is made of two lots of land on the easterly side of Ramington street. These lots are attractively located in the finest portion of the Andover street residential section. They have an area approximately 14,000 sq. ft. The purchaser is Wallis A. McCoy, the incoming plant manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. This increases Mr. McCoy's holdings in this section, to four lots, he having already purchased two lots last month. Final papers have been sent to record in the transfer of a large tract of land lying between Middlesex street and the main-line trackage of the Concord division of the Boston and Maine railroad. The tract has an area of over 100,000 sq. ft. with a frontage on Middlesex street and Middlesex Park as well as on the railroad. As a whole, it makes one of the best manufacturing sites within the city limits. The sale is effected on behalf of the Coddington Carpet Corporation of New York. The grantee is John A. Simpson of this city. It is made in conjunction with the office of Walter E. Guyette.

BUTTON DESIGNS

The French designers continue to do the most interesting things with buttons, combining them with embroidery and making motifs of them as well as running them up and down in rows.

Jack Daw's Adventure. Chapter 18

The little adventurer went to the kitchen and got a lot of old pieces of bread. When he returned to the deck and threw them out the birds immediately dropped down for a feast. Jack stood back so as not to scare them. It was fun to watch them scramble for the hard crusts.

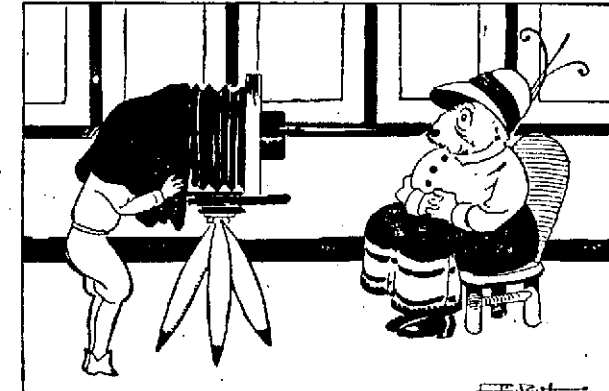

The bread was about all gone when suddenly Flip came tearing out on the deck. He made straightway for the sea birds and there was a loud fluttering of wings as the birds took to the air. Every one of them got away and Flip stood and barked until they had disappeared from sight.

From then on for several days everything was calm and quiet as the sailing vessel sailed along. Now and then Jack would turn in and help scrub deck. The exercise made him feel good. Then, one morning, he found that it had grown much colder and he put on a heavy overcoat. (Continued.)

NICK SET A CHAIR FOR MRS. WOODCHUCK IN FRONT OF A CURTAIN

Happy Go Lucky park was very popular and Nick and Mister Zip were as busy as robins after a rainstorm, keeping it in order and having things all spick and span when the wood folk and meadow folk began to arrive with their pennies and lunches to spend the day.

"Well, I declare!" said Mister Zip one day when he was taking tickets at the gate. "If here doesn't come Mrs. Woodchuck all dressed up in her Sunday best!"

"How do you do, Mrs. Woodchuck?" "Oh, I'm pretty well, thank you," said Mrs. Woodchuck, breathlessly, for the groundlings lady was very fat and had been hurrying. "Here's my 10 cents to get it," she panted. "But I didn't come to ride on the merry-go-round or the roller coaster. I didn't even bring my lunch and I came off without the children because it's a secret."

"A secret!" exclaimed Nancy and Nick and Mister Zip all together.

"Yes," nodded Mrs. Woodchuck. "A secret! The other day when I was here with Wally and the children, saw a sign over there which said, 'Pictures taken while you wait.' That's why I came today—to get my picture taken. Could you take my picture while I wait, Mister Zip, could you?"

"Of course!" smiled Mister Zip. "I 'rissibly couldn't take it if you didn't wait, could I? But what is the secret about, Mrs. Woodchuck? There isn't any secret about getting your picture taken, is there?"

"Oh, yes, indeed, Mister Zip. You see, tomorrow is Wally's birthday and I want to surprise him."

"I see," said Mister Zip pleasantly. "Well, we won't tell a soul, and Nick can take your picture. He is my general handy man. Nick is, and he can do everything almost."

"What?" shrieked Mrs. Woodchuck. "My hat on my nose, indeed?" "That means that she'll see if your hat is on straight and your powder on your nose," corrected Mister Zip. "She got her words mixed."

And so talking and explaining and apologizing and pouting, the twins

THE OLD HOME TOWN

TWO OR THREE OF THE BOYS EGBERT ROBBINS USED TO PLAY WITH REMINDED HIM OF SOME OF HIS WILD PRANKS OF THE OLD DAYS

Finally got fat Mrs. Woodchuck to the place where it said "Pictures taken while you wait." And they went in. Nick set a chair for Mrs. Woodchuck in front of a curtain and then went behind a big camera to see how she looked. He put his head under a big black cloth and said, "Turn your head a little, Mrs. Woodchuck. That's just right. Now smile a little and show your teeth. That's just right. And now put your eyes up there where that little bird is."

"How can I put my eyes up there where that little bird is when they're in my head, I'd like to know," demanded Mrs. Woodchuck.

It took a long time before Nancy and Nick could explain to the groundlings lady that Nick only meant for her to look at the little bird.

"Oh, is that it?" said Mrs. Woodchuck. "Well, go ahead then, and she sat down again in a better humor. (To Be Continued.)

Legal Notices

To the Honorable the Judges of the Probate Court in and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully libels and represents Bella Potvin of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, that she was lawfully married to Albert Potvin, also called Albany Potvin, now of parts unknown, at Biddeford in the State of Maine, on the twenty-sixth day of September, A.D. 1914, and thereafter your libellant and the said libellee lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit: at said Lowell, that your libellant has always been faithful to their marriage vows and obligations, but the said libellee being wholly regardless of the same, at said Lowell on or about the first day of April, 1918, utterly deserted your libellant and continued such desertion from said last mentioned date until the date hereof being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel; and at said Biddeford and at said Lowell from on or about the first day of October, 1918, to on or about the first day of April, 1918, was guilty of cruel and abusive treatment towards your libellant. Your libellant further says that she has lived in this Commonwealth for more than five years last preceding the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bond of matrimony between your libellant and the said libellee be granted and further that the Court decree that your libellant be allowed to resume her maiden name, to wit, Bella Pinard.

Dated this second day of July, A.D. 1924.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

Upon the foregoing libel, ordered that the said libel give notice to said Albany Potvin, also called Albany Potvin, by causing an attested copy of said libel, and of this order thereon, to be published in the Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, once a week for three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the return day of this Court, at Cambridge, within the County of Middlesex, on the fourth day of August, A.D. 1924, and by mailing forthwith, by registered letter to the libellee at his last known residence, an attested copy of said libel and of this order thereon, that he may appear at said Court within six months from said fourth day of August and show cause, if any he has, why the prayer of said libel should not be granted.

Witness, George F. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this third day of July, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four.

CHARLES N. HARRIS, Register.

DEVENS OFFICER IS WOUNDED

Lt. Campbell of Springfield Shot Through Leg While Inspecting Gun

Sergt. Crokan Who Fired Revolver, Heartbroken—Horses Frisky

CAMP DEVENS, July 12.—The first real casualty of the encampment of the 26th Division, Mass. National Guard, occurred late yesterday afternoon when Lieut. John S. Campbell of Springfield was shot in the leg by Sergt. Thomas E. Crokan. Both men are members of Company C, 104th Infantry.

The accident occurred shortly after 5 o'clock, following retreat, while the company was practicing guard mount and Lieut. Campbell was performing his duty of inspecting the arms of the soldiers.

He did not notice that the pistol of Sergt. Crokan contained one shell. According to army regulations, as soon as a weapon is inspected the holder must point it in the air and pull the trigger before replacing it in the holster.

Sergt. Crokan pointed the pistol upward, but believing the chamber to be empty, did not pull the trigger until the weapon had been lowered.

The bullet entered Lieut. Campbell's left leg three inches below the knee, fractured the bone, and came out 10 inches below the knee. Within two minutes Maj. Merrill F. Hosmer, regimental surgeon, was on the scene with a first aid kit. An ambulance was sent from the 101st Medical Regiment and within eight minutes Lieut. Campbell was on his way to the camp hospital.

Sergt. Crokan is a veteran, having served with the 104th Infantry through the war. He was on the pistol range yesterday afternoon and was second in the regiment for the divisional pistol team. He was brokenhearted last night over the accident.

Lieut. Campbell was one of the players on the team of 104th Infantry lieutenants which defeated the captains at baseball during the afternoon, 5 to 3.

COLLEGE CLUB WORKER in Promotion of Club in Buffalo, N. Y.

The many friends of John J. Barden, whose home is at 397 Broadway, Lowell, will be interested to learn that he has been instrumental in promoting a collegiate social and fraternal association to be known as "The Buffalo Canisius Club," at Canisius college in Buffalo, N. Y., and has also led in promoting the organization of "The Canisius Club of New England." The story is a very interesting one and indicates that the Lowell young man is a popular figure in collegiate circles of his favorite choice.

JOHN J. BARDEN

Plans for the formation of the Canisius club of Buffalo, an organization composed of graduates and undergraduates of Canisius college, called for a systematic, well-planned boosting of Canisius throughout the eastern section of this country. The club is to be modeled to some extent after the many college representative clubs which are now located in many cities of the country at large. The plans were first discussed at the annual reunion dinner of the Canisius class of 1922.

Young Mr. Barden of this city introduced the club idea and is also responsible for establishing the first college year book at the New Canisius university of Buffalo.

Present plans include the booming of Canisius in the New England states, with Mr. Barden leading the way with able suggestions. This New England "spread" would result in the formation of very substantial subsidiaries to the Buffalo chapter club. The first report of the campaign committee will be made in the fall at a dinner to be held in Buffalo. The working members on this committee besides Mr. Barden, include Stephen P. Cain, Edwin Gluckman, Ted Sullivan, John P. Borowski and Walter Kessler.

FINGER PRINTING WORLD WAR VETERANS

Local World War veterans are offered the police department facilities for making finger prints in connection with their applications for bonus, in a letter from Police Supl. E. R. Kingston to Commander Colin C. MacDonald of Lowell post, A. L. today.

The letter follows:

Commander Colin C. MacDonald, Lowell Post 87, American Legion.

Dear Sir:

In preparing the so-called bonus package, members are required to file with the government. I am informed they are required to have the applicants' finger prints.

I offer the facilities of the police department in that particular to the members of your command. This also includes all the service men in Lowell.

season with the singing of "La Boheme," "Werther," one of Mr. Martin's successes and perhaps the most pronounced, was sung the first half of the season. Mr. Martin starred in this production meeting with a crowded house and enthusiastic applause at every performance.

French composers and artists see in Mr. Martin one of the most brilliant tenor singers of the coming operatic age. His interpretations, simple, well given, portray his personality and adaptability. Recognized master of the French opera, Mr. Martin will this summer devote his time to Italian opera, thus enabling him to perform on the Italian stage.

Although Mr. Martin is devoted to his work across, he hopes to some day be able to sing in America. Among his aspirations, however, are Italy and South America, the latter country being particularly desirable to the young artist. He is also studying for "Le Jongleur de Notre Dame," which is included in his repertoire for the coming season.

Mr. Martin leaves tomorrow for the Adriatic, where he will spend the summer. He will return home September 1 and will sail for Europe about September 6, where he will open his final season under the present contract with "Madame Butterfly."

WOMAN DYING, SUES FOR $25,000

NEWARK, July 12.—Charging breach of promise Dora Rissia, 28, has started suit for $25,000 against Leo Botis, a Newark candy manufacturer, although she lies at City hospital, a victim of an incurable disease, which according to her lawyer, William J. Zucker, will not permit her to live more than two weeks. It is said the young woman is homeless.

Doctors at the hospital, too, say Miss Rissia cannot be cured and that her death is only a matter of time.

The young woman charges that in accordance with Greek custom, Botis gave her a wedding ring which she was to keep until the day of the ceremony. He observed the American custom also, Miss Rissia says, by giving her an engagement ring.

Botis was arrested on a warrant issued by Supreme Court Commissioner William J. Kearns. He was released under $3000 bail pending hearing of the suit.

According to papers filed, the romance which culminated in the breach of promise suit, began four years ago. About a year ago Miss Rissia claims her health began to fail and at the same time Botis' love for her began to wane.

The statement denies as "false and alarming" information regarding the alleged spread of the movement to the state of Rio Grande.

Known of Impending Revolt

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, July 12.—An indication that the Brazilian government had knowledge early this month of the impending outbreak at Sao Paulo, is given in a copy of the Rio Janeiro newspaper to Brazil, the July 2nd edition of which has been received here.

The newspaper reports that on account of certain rumors, regimental commanders were suddenly ordered to their quarters on July 1, and 38 officers who had participated in the military revolt of July, 1922, were arrested, together with several civilians, "as a precautionary measure."

RESCUE CREW FROM INSANE SAILOR

SYDNEY, N. S., July 12.—Police answering distress signals flown by the rum runner Annie S. as she crept in to port yesterday, rescued the crew from an insane sailor, armed with an axe and chisel, who had taken command of the vessel.

The single-handed mutiny was staged by Lewis Quillon of St. Pierre, Miquelon. According to Capt. White of the Annie S. Quillon ran amuck soon after the vessel left the island, bound for the American coast with a cargo of assorted liquors.

Capt. White was the first victim of the madman's attack, but he dodged the flying axe and barricaded himself inside the pilothouse. In the meantime, according to the captain, Quillon drove the crew below decks and set fire to the foremast in an attempt to drive his shipmates out where he could wield his axe on them.

Thus, with Capt. White a prisoner in the pilothouse and Quillon unchallenged master of the decks, the vessel and all hands narrowly escaped foundering. In Cabot strait, said the skipper, he steered for this port, with distress signals flying.

Police this morning boarded the rum ship, overpowered Quillon after a battle, and brought him ashore in chains.

MINOR CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Eight men arrested yesterday on the South common by Officer Anthony Christie, were arraigned in district court this morning on charges of drunkenness and were sentenced to one month in the house of correction. The men were Joseph Landry, John B. Merrill, Charles Cunningham, George D. Blythe, Joseph Smith, John J. Donlon, Thomas Lannon and Patrick Dowling. Landry appealed and was ordered to recognize in $200 for superior court.

John F. Murphy, drunk, was sentenced to one month in the house of correction. Patrick J. Royal, arraigned on a like charge, was given a similar sentence and entered an appeal.

Samuel A. Renaud was fined $5 for non-support and entered an appeal. Bonds were set at $200 for his appearance in superior court.

Max Kowalsky, charged with illegal sale on May 17, was continued to Aug. 6.

Armed Yashar, illegal sale, was continued over week.

Speros Thomas was found guilty of operating an automobile without license in his possession, and was fined $10.

Driving his motorcycle without a muffler and at an excessive rate of speed, cost Joseph F. Pralus $15 in district court this morning. He was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Kivlan on the First street boulevard, who testified defendant was driving at a speed between 35 and 40 miles an hour. Judge Fisher found him guilty and fined him $10 for driving at an excessive rate of speed and $5 for driving without a muffler.

GOING TO CONNECTICUT Commandant Abbott of Sal- vation Army and Mrs. Ab- bott to Leave Lowell

Commandant Charles M. Abbott and Mrs. Abbott, who have with marked success controlled the destinies of local headquarters of the Salvation Army on Appleton street during the past twelve months, will depart on Thursday next for pastures new.

The commander and his worthy helpmeet, both of whom have performed valorous relief work in the Lowell Salvation Army district since their happy marriage that occurred last year, have been assigned to the South Manchester, Conn. field.

Commander Abbott and his wife will be succeeded in Lowell headquarters by Capt. and Mrs. David Farrar of Malden, who will take up their duties here next week, Thursday. The newcomers have been laboring in the Salvation Army cause for many years, being particularly successful in Philadelphia rescue and relief campaigns. They have been laboring in Malden barracks only a short time. There are two sons, both excellent cornet players. Father and mother also play hand instruments and are sure to be cordially welcomed by the Lowell Salvation Army musical organization. Mrs. Farrar has a record of loyal devotion to army work in general, being a valuable co-operating aid to her husband in his many field campaigns. The new Lowell army corps leaders also performed valiantly in new building campaigns in Pawtucket.

Farewell services will be conducted in the Lowell headquarters on Appleton street tomorrow, with all-day exercises. There will also be a "farewell service" in the barracks hall tonight, at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow, there will be exercises at 10:30 a.m., 3:30 p.m. and at 8 p.m. The local army band will play and the departing commander and his wife will be very glad to have all Lowell friends and supporters attend the farewell services.

Commander Abbott's regime in Lowell has lasted just one year. He took formal charge of local headquarters on July 12, 1923. He conducted the work unaided at the outset. A few months afterward, his marriage to a widely known young woman engaged in larger Salvation army fields before her coming to this city, was announced, and there was a joyous reception and celebration when the popular local commander returned to the colors with a bride prepared to aid him loyally in his new relief programs.

The accomplishments of the commander and his bride, aided always by earnest local staff workers and many friendly Lowell citizens of both sexes, have been many, although some extensive campaigns for relief were not very fruitful owing to the stagnation of the textile industries. Much of the relief work was performed with small resources, yet the results were satisfactory in many instances, and many public-spirited citizens along the Salvation army's relieving numerous cases of poverty and distress, had nothing but highest praise for the sincerity and diligence of the retiring Commander Abbott and his wife.

The Abbott's regime in the Appleton street army barracks brought about the institution of a new service organization, called the "Woman's Home League." It is still flourishing.

CHARLES M. ABBOTT
Commandant

FIRST STREET RAILWAY MOTOR BUS ARRIVES

The first of the three motor busses which are to be operated by the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company on the Lowell-Boston route, arrived in this city at 11 o'clock this forenoon.

The two remaining busses, which were shipped a day later than the one which arrived today, are expected to arrive tomorrow.

The bus which arrived this morning was constructed by the Papeel Company in Oakland, California, and is one of the most popular types of day-touring busses in use. It has a seating capacity of 22, with each seat sufficiently large to ensure comfort. Large windows beside the seats provide ventilation and in addition the windshield in front may be opened during the exceedingly warm weather.

An unusual feature of the machine is the braking arrangement. The foot brake of this bus is an air brake, similar to the air brakes used in electric cars. This provides a powerful method of braking without the consequent use of great strength on the part of the driver. The emergency brake is hand operated, with great leverage, and is similar to that used on the larger trucks at the present time.

As soon as minor adjustments are made on the machine and the engine is tried out, about ten operators of the local division will be given lessons in operating the huge bus. A competent instructor will be in this city to give lessons in its operation and conduct of no man will be placed on the list of bus operators until the instructor is satisfied that he is capable of operating the machine safely.

Opening of the Lowell-Boston bus line depends entirely upon the city council. Application for a permit to operate in this city has been under advisement for over a month and unless the permit is granted very shortly, the bus line will not be put into operation this summer.

LOWELL GIRL STAR IN VAUDEVILLE ACT

Miss Alice Delisle, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. St. Delisle of West street, will visit her parents the latter part of September. Miss Delisle, prominent in theatricals, is at present in California starring in a vaudeville act and also working in pictures. At the close of her contract, Miss Delisle will return home for a short while, after which she will resume her studies in New York. At the completion of her studies she will go into vaudeville with her own act.

aiding housewives and mothers and teaching them to sew and cook and also keep tidy homes. The army branch succeeded recently in distributing many garments to poverty-stricken textile workers of both sexes. Supplies were not lacking, but the Abbot's made contributions go just as far as possible.

A tag day was recently proposed, and a party was held at the home of Mrs. Abbott, but Commander Abbott and his aide finally decided that a campaign of this kind at this time, when so many industries are running on short time, would be hardly proper owing to general industrial conditions locally.

The army, under the 12-month supervision of Commander and Mrs. Abbott, has conducted several religious interest-awakening campaigns in the Billerica, Chelmsford and No. Chelmsford. These were held in the open, with band present. Each rally was largely attended and relief collections very fair.

Commandant Abbott and his co-workers go to South Manchester to take the places made vacant by the transfer of Commander and Mrs. Harry White from that city to New Haven.

Commandant Abbott has been engaged in Salvation Army work for the past 23 years. He joined the organization in Scotland and performed arduous work there for six years, coming to the United States on a transfer 17 years ago and remaining here ever since. In his new field in South Manchester, he will lead the largest Salvation army organization in the Connecticut district. There is a band organization of 40 pieces attached, also a young people's band and orchestra. The Sunday school is an exceptional large one and the enlarged territory for lifesaving work will require constant attention from the newly appointed executive and his wife.

Commandant Abbott today spoke highly of his treatment by the people of Lowell, and his friends. He has made many friends in many local walks of life and has always been generously aided when campaigning for relief funds. He paid respects to numerous citizens, who he said, "never failed" to come to the aid of the Lowell organization on Appleton street in times of necessity and emergency calls. He leaves the city with the hope that the incoming commander and his helpmeet will receive the same cordial, sympathetic treatment that he and his bride received in good measure.

MOTOR VEHICLE LAW VIOLATION

Violation of the motor vehicle law in Billerica on June 22 resulted in Joseph E. Boyd appearing before Judge Fisher this morning and being fined $20.

The complaint in this case was brought by an officer of the state constabulary, who testified that on Sunday, June 22, at 3:30 p. m., the defendant drove his machine through the center of Pinchurst.

In making a finding of guilty, Judge Fisher said he believed the state officer's story, and imposed a $20 fine. Boyd entered an appeal and was ordered held in $100 bonds for the next session of the superior court in Cambridge.
